Should Atom Bomb Be Used by Allies?

Edmontonians Answer Question; 'Nays' Have It In Local Views

Civilized man is today confronted with the greatest single menace in history in the form of the atomic bomb.

Should it be used to stop Russian aggression? Should it be used at all? Under what circumstances?

To find out what Edmonton thinks about it, The Edmonton Bulletin posed the questions to religious, civic, community, business leaders and to the average man in the street.

Government leaders would not comment. The views of others follow:

Calls It Mass Murder

Bernice Dorskind, recreation director, Civic Recreation Commission:

"It would be mass murder. Under no circumstances should we drop it. As far as dropping the bomb in self defence after it has been dropped on us—well, I don't think there'll be much left of us to worry about if that happens. I think there should be less talk about dropping the bomb, and how many people we can kill, and more really honest talk about preserving peace."

Flying Officer T. E. W. Robson, public relations officer, S.S. Station, Edmonton:

"The nuclear fission bomb is a weapon of destruction, and, like all weapons of destruction, to be used advantageously it must be used against a suitable target. I personally feel that there has not been such a target presented in the struggle in Korea that would warrant the use of such destructive power.

"It must not be forgotten that an atomic attack would no doubt bring retaliation from the enemy, and the results would not be worth the price paid."

Petty Officer First Class R. P. Baker, Electrical Technician HMCS Nonsuch:

"I am not in favor of the use of the atomic bomb. Hundreds of thousands of harmless civilians would be killed in the event of its use and it would take years to rebuild the structures destroyed. For the comparatively few troops that would be wiped out if the bomb was used, it's not worth the chance of starting a third world war and possibly destroying the whole world. I am definitely opposed to the United Nations using the bomb first."

Useless Slaughter Decried

Sergeant J. A. Cranston, Headquarters Staff, Western Army Command:

"I don't think we should use the atomic bomb. It is a terrible weapon because no matter what you are going to bomb: military installations, troops or industrial developments, you are going to kill a lot of civilians. If we start to use the atomic bomb it's going to bring in bombs from other nations to be used against us. The Atomic Energy Commission of the United Nations will cause the destruction of the world if they don't agree to outlaw the atomic bomb."

Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, minister at Robertson United Church:

"I believe the United States should turn over the authority to use the bomb to the United Nations. I do not think the United States was justified in using the bomb against Japan."

Oliver C. McIntyre, President Canadian Chamber of Commerce:

"The atom bomb is just another kind of bomb only worse than the previous types. I would have no hesitation on dropping it now on military concentrations and installations if it is to mean victory. As for using it on civilian populations, I see no reason for it. There is no value in wiping out the civilian populations. It would only serve to make the military forces more angry and more determined to fight on."

'No', Says Mother of Two

Mrs. Jack Cossey, housewife, 9619 106 Street:

"Definitely no. I don't think the atom bomb should be used under any circumstances. It could mean the end of civilization, here as well as over there. I used to want to have six or eight children, but, the way things are today, I don't think I'll want to raise a large family. What in heaven's name are we living for "The other day my little girl asked me if she could wash her own hair when she grew up. I sat there and wondered if she would live to grow up. I often look at my little boy, he's almost four, and wonder what I'm bringing him up for.

"I don't think the Americans know what an atomic war will mean. They think they'll be able to bomb Russia and get away unhurt themselves. They're definitely irresponsible people and right now they're war hysterical.

Dr. D. B. Scott, physicist, 11150-77 avenue:

"The atom bomb should only be used as a last resort to avoid complete destruction of our society. There are grave moral implications in its use and I would hate to see us use the atomic bomb first. As far as Korea is concerned, I am certain nothing could be accomplished in its use, since it is chiefly useful against industrial centres."

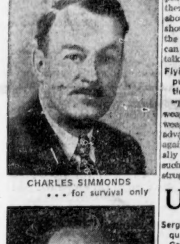

Dr. E. H. Gowan, physicist, University of Alberta, 11409 University Drive:

"There are no circumstances

Lewis, Noted Novelist, Dies In Rome at 65

ROME, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Sinclair Lewis, novelist and first American to win the Nobel Prize for Literature, died here today. He would have been 66 next month.

Lewis died at the Villa Electra Clinic, where he had been ill with bronchial pneumonia since Dec. 31. Hospital attendants said he also had a heart ailment.

MADE HISTORY

Creator of George Babbitt, the typical American business man of the 1920s, Lewis made literary history also with such searching studies of American life as "Main Street," "Arrowsmith," "Elmer Gantry," "Dodsworth," "It Can't Happen Here" and "Kingsblood Royal."

He was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1930, chiefly for "Babbitt."

"The God-Seeker," his 21st book, appeared in 1949.

The famous author had been under treatment for some time. Friends said he realized death was near and wanted to die in Italy, where he wrote "Babbitt" and where he met his second wife, columnist - commentator Dorothy Thompson.

Allied Retreat Halts, New Line Is Formed

THIS LONELY HEART DEAL A SUCCESS

WHITELEY BAY, England, Jan. 10—(Reuters)—Whiteley Bay staged a get-together for "lonely hearts" last summer. Today 64 men and women who attended are married or engaged. So Whiteley Bay will have another lonely hearts meeting next June. The idea began with a bachelor's request to the local council to help him find a bride in the district.

Russ Leaders Want War—St. Laurent

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada said tonight he believes the Russian people want peace—but their leaders seek world domination.

We have not lost hope of preventing a third world war," he said in a BBC broadcast. "The prevention of war is certainly the first concern of free peoples.

"I believe the people themselves in every country want peace and I am sure that if the people of the Soviet Union had access to the truth anda voice in their own affairs there would be peace.

"But that is not the situation and we do not dare ignore the fact that that great country is armed to the teeth; and that the policies of the Soviet government leave no doubt that that the real aim of its rulers is the dominion of the world by force or fear of force."

MUST BE STRONG

St. Laurent said no country "is going to start a war without feeling it has a good prospect of winning it."

That was why, he added, North Atlantic pact countries must build up their military resources "to prevent a world war by removing the prospect of successful aggression."

No responsible person, he said, wanted to see the war in Korea "develop into a sort of undeclared war between the United Nations and the Chinese people."

COULDN'T HELP US

Such a war would benefit "no one on our side" and "might give a great relative advantage in world power to the Soviet Union if that country is able to avoid being directly embroiled in it."

Though armed strength was necessary in the present world crisis, there would "never be stable and enduring peace in the world until we can achieve among all nations something of the mutual respect and understanding we are striving to maintain within the Commonwealth," he said.

"I believe the greatest service of the Commonwealth today is that it points the way to the ultimate goal in which peace and brotherhood, the genuine desire to live and let live, will be the ideals of men and nations everywhere."

Liquor Count Is Withdrawn

A charge of allowing minors to consume liquor, laid by police against John Chocholik January 2, was withdrawn today at the request of the crown.

Chocholik was charged following a police raid last Dec. 30 on an auto court cabin. Police found a party attended by 21 boys and girls in progress and seven empty cases of beer in the room.

The police had been called by the manager of the auto court. The 21 persons in the cabin were questioned and allowed to go home.

Great Red Force Poised for Attack

By Earnest Hoberecht
Special to the Bulletin

TOKYO, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The U.S. 8th Army appeared today to have halted its retreat at least temporarily and thrown up a new defence line across Korea against 26 Red divisions—250,000 men—poised for attack.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters hinted indirectly at the new defence line and warned of the ominous enemy buildup north of it in a communique.

Arrayed along a 70-mile front from Osan, 27 miles south of Seoul, to Wonju in the central mountains are seven Chinese armies totalling 21 divisions, a North Korean corps of three divisions, a Mongolian cavalry division and a Chinese artillery division, the communique said.

All signs indicated that the 8th Army has halted its southward movement toward Taegu and Pusan at least temporarily and thrown up a defence screen against the expected new assault.

For the first time since Jan. 1, neither MacArthur's headquarters, 8th Army headquarters nor front dispatches reported any allied withdrawals. Instead they reported the 8th Army held firm and even improved its positions in some sectors.

The biggest allied counter-attack came near the eastern end of the defence line, where elements of the U.S. 2nd Division, supported by a French battalion and Dutch units, hurled fiercely-resisting North Korean Reds back three miles in bayonet charges through a blinding snowstorm yesterday.

REDS OFF BALANCE

The two-pronged counter-attack carried the 2nd Division back to within two miles of the important road axis of Wonju, 45 miles south of the 38th parallel. The allies captured high hills approaching the city at dusk last night, but apparently did not follow up with a new thrust today.

An 8th Army spokesman said the allies merely held firm all along the front today with action limited to patrolling.

But yesterday's counter-attack

Weatherman Sights More Balmy Days

They're brewing some more of this wonderful mild weather out on the Pacific coast.

The weatherman said today two storms in the Pacific area would probably mean a continuation of a flow of benign western airs which have kept temperatures up in this area for the past few days.

With a nod to the west, his outlook was slanted toward continuing mild weather with increasing cloudiness late tomorrow, clear and gentle today, light winds, and an expected maximum of 25 above.

ZERO TONIGHT

Tomorrow's scheduled high was the same solid 25.

A zero reading was forecast as the minimum tonight—lowest in several nights.

Yesterday's high thermometer reading was 30 above just as the forecast said—at 2:30 p.m.

Overnight low was three above at 7:30 a.m., today.

The slightly lower temperatures in Edmonton and district were part of an overall weather picture in which the mercury dropped a few degrees on minimum and maximum readings over most of the province.

MACARTHUR DENIES WITHDRAWAL STORY

TOKYO, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur's official spokesman today denied there were any facts to a story printed in the United States that the General had recommended withdrawal of all United Nations forces from Korea.

He referred to a copyrighted story by Keyes Beech, Chicago Daily News correspondent covering MacArthur's headquarters, which said MacArthur was "understood to have recommended to Washington withdrawal of all United Nations forces from Korea."

Beech said he obtained his information from "authoritative sources."

Asked to comment on the story, Col. Marion P. Echols, MacArthur's official spokesman said:

"There has been nothing official or unofficial said regarding the evacuation of Korea. That story is purely a figment of the write's imagination."

In Washington, a U.S. Army spokesman said it had received no recommendation from MacArthur for a withdrawal of United Nations forces from Korea.

TO MAKE A POINT

Legalized Crap Game Slated for Courtroom

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 10—A public exhibition of crap shooting is planned by State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran in court Friday. The prosecutor is going to attempt to make a legal point.

Moran is looking for volunteer crapshooters.

"If I don't get volunteers—and it doesn't look like I'm going to—I intend to subpoena a few qualified experts in the game," Moran said. "I can find them without going far."

There will be no bets, however, Moran said. His purpose in planning a courtroom crap game is to prove that a crap table is gambling equipment and subject to destruction by authorities.

The game is to be played on an ornate rectangular table of carved walnut, valued at $3,000. Police seized it last summer in a raid on a roadhouse near Moline.

Moran has before the court a petition for an order for destroying the table and for other equipment taken in the raid.

Should Atom Bomb Be Used by Allies?

under which it should be used at the present time. We should never use it first, and I would like to see it used at all. We are right on the edge of the unknown in this matter and no one knows the ultimate consequences, in spite of all the work which has been done. If we were to use the bomb first, it would put us in an even more unfavorable light than we are now in the eyes of the rest of the world, particularly in Asia."

Carl Berg, vice-president of the 500,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada:

"The A-bomb should not be used again except in extreme necessity. If it becomes apparent our civilization cannot survive because such dread weapons are brought to bear against us then the atom bomb is the only course.

"But even then warning should be given to people in the target area so the civilian population may be evacuated. The A-Bomb should not be used in a sneak attack."

Jack Hampson, Alberta representative of the United Packing House Workers of America (CIO), and president of the Industrial Federation of Labor of Alberta (CCL-CIO):

"Use of the A-Bomb today against Communist aggression should be studied in a much different light than at the time of its use against Japan.

"At that time we were fortunate enough to be on the side that had this weapon. Today all that has been changed.

"The potential enemy of the peoples of the free world has the full knowledge and use of the instrument. The universal knowledge of the deadly weapon being at hand we must for the sake of human existence place it on the 'Not for use shelf' along with gas and bacterial weapons.

"This should be the object of both the trespassed and the aggressor."

City Planner Noel Dant:

"I cannot see any ultimate good coming from use of the atomic bomb".

"According to the philosophical law of cause and effect, no matter how justifiable it may be proved to use an atomic bomb, the causative fact of destruction will ultimately even if only indirectly—boomerang with equally destructive effects on the force which initiates the destruction."

C. W. "RED" McNICHOL has been promoted to detective rank on city police force. McNichol, member of force since 1940, also is Alberta president of Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

No Gain Seen in Use

Andrew Stewart, president University of Alberta:

"In my opinion, the atom bomb differs from other modern lethal weapons, only in scale. However, the outlawing of a certain means of waging war does reflect some advance control in mankind's tendency to self-destruction.

"In most circumstances, we would lose more from using the bomb first than we would be likely to gain. Consequently we should use the bomb first only in extraordinary circumstances.

"We should avoid threatening to use it when we have no intention of doing so or where the gain would be slight."

Bus Anderson, clothing clerk, 9624-106A avenue:

"The atom bomb is a terrifying weapon and I believe it should be outlawed. An atomic war could mean the end of civilization. We should only use it if it is used against us and there is no other way of saving ourselves."

Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton:

Every humane and civilized person is against use of the atomic bomb. But its use might become an unfortunate necessity. In total war, in the absence of international agreements, the atomic bomb might have to be used as an additional military weapon. Fortunately at the moment there seems no necessity for using this terrible weapon.

Alan Macdonald, president of Edmonton Montgomery Branch Canadian Legion:

"I will answer your question this way: I assume that the policy of our government is not to use the atomic bomb first in any war. In the last war Churchill told the Germans: 'We do not intend to use poison gas but if you use gas we will make very certain that gas will be used against Germany with great effectiveness.' The same policy should be the policy in the case of the atomic bomb."

Sees Moral Right for Use

Charles Simmonds, president of Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues:

"If use of the A-bomb means the survival of our way of life over some other way of life that is definitely inferior, I say use it by all means, and use it first. If survival of the teachings of Christ is at stake, there can be no doubt about our moral right to use the bomb.

"It used to forward commercial and business advantage in a war of expansion, its use would definitely be wrong.

Archbishop John Hugh Macdonald, Roman Catholic:

"I would rather leave those decisions to the governments of the countries concerned."

Rabbi B. Leon Hurwitz, Beth Sholem Synagogue:

"Fortunately, the question at the moment is academic. The mood and tempers of Friday's civil defence meetings and the addresses of Premier Manning and federal authorities should dominate us. To quote the Premier: 'Preparation without panic.'"

Prof. William Rowan, 10721-86 avenue:

"Use of the atomic bomb must be universally vetoed. Every nuclear physicist of requisite conditions it as a potential destroyer of civilization, an authoritative verdict that politics must be forced to respect. It is time man used his intellect for solving his problems and discarded barbarism.

"The age of atomic warfare died with Hiroshima. If the bomb is permitted, every other atrocity known, including biological warfare will unquestionably be unleashed in retaliation and may spell the end of man. Human futility can go no further than to commit suicide."

G. W. Chornell, 10740-109 street, druggist:

"I am definitely against the use of the atom bomb at any time. If we use the bomb, retaliation is certain. Neither side used gas in the last war. I think the same thing applies with the atom bomb. If we don't use it, I don't think the Russians will either. I have a family of my own and I know that they would be the real sufferers in an atomic war. Children are always the innocent victims in war and that would be especially true in an atomic war."

Auto, Truck In Collision

VEGREVILLE, Jan. 10.—William Pidruchney, district agriculturist of Vegreville, is in hospital suffering shock, cuts and bruises following an accident last night on Vegreville's "mile of death."

Pidruchney was reportedly in a head-on collision with a truck driven by W. Pawliuk on No. 16 highway, about a quarter of a mile west of Vegreville.

Both vehicles were badly smashed.

Pidruchney is the 32nd person to be injured within a year on Vegreville's "mile of death"—a short span of highway near Royal Park. Five deaths also occurred on the stretch of road in 1950.

LONDON.—(CP)—Fire at the Brixton hill street-car depot destroyed eight cars, but officials weren't worried. They were destined to be destroyed anyway.

U.S. Will Charge Reds Flouted UN

Austin Reveals Four-Point Plan For Answer to Chinese Invasion

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The United States finally has brought into the open a four-point plan which it hopes the United Nations will adopt as its answer to Communist China's intervention in Korea.

The American proposal, calling for condemnation of the Peiping regime as an aggressor, was outlined by the chief American UN delegate, Warren R. Austin, in a speech at Atlantic City, N.J., last night. Austin said the United States is trying to line up strong support for the proposal, and he expressed the belief it would succeed.

PRINCIPAL POINTS

Although the American proposal has not yet been formalized into a resolution, its main points call for:

1. A finding that the Chinese Reds flouted UN authority and committed aggression against Korea.

2. A reaffirmation of UN purposes in Korea, calling for withdrawal of the invader and for all UN members to refrain from assisting the aggressor.

3. A call to each member to support action decided upon by the UN in proportion to the member's ability.

4. A move to put to work immediately the collective measures committee to consider the means to meet existing aggression and prevent further aggression.

Austin made it clear that there is no question of changing the high strategy in Korea, but only a question of getting united action on tactics and timing.

There was no indication when the United States would submit its proposals.

Already before the UN political committee is a British suggestion that the UN make a final peace appeal to the Peiping regime. Though given little or no chance for success, such an appeal would postpone introduction of the U.S. plan for a week or more.

The political committee meets again tomorrow to hear another report from the three-country cease-fire committee on its efforts to draft a new truce appeal.

UN Forces Halt Korean Retreat

below Wonju, the first in any size since the collapse of MacArthur's "Home by Christmas" offensive in late November, caught the Reds off balance and took a heavy toll of enemy lives.

The commanding general jubilantly told United Press war correspondent Joe Quinn at the front: "We are moving too fast to count the enemy dead, but the snow is red with Communist blood."

COMMANDER WORRIED

Said another officer:

"We are in contact with the North Koreans now and we intend to give them hell."

The American-French-Dutch attack started originally as an armed reconnaissance in force from the southwest and southeast. But when the allies pierced the enemy's defence perimeter, they stepped up the counter-attack with a series of battalion-sized assaults. Wonju fell to the Communists Monday.

Four North Korean divisions were reported holding Wonju and the 2nd Division commanders were worried about the Communists rushing two fresh North Korean reserve divisions and unidentified Chinese units farther north into battle.

Moreover, there was a growing enemy buildup on the 2nd Division's eastern flank.

PRISONERS TAKEN

An 8th Army spokesman said Red tanks were reported to have infiltrated as much as 30 miles east southeast of Wonju, in the vicinity of the secondary railway and highway hub of Chechon.

UN patrols in the Chechon area also reported that they had "contact" with enemy command posts and Communist patrols. One prisoner reported 3,000 to 3,000 Communist troops, presumably North Koreans, a few miles east of Chechon.

Some 10 miles southwest of Wonju, a Communist battalion attacked and penetrated allied positions yesterday, but UN forces counter-attacked and by dusk, the Reds were withdrawing.

MacArthur's headquarters did not definitely locate the seven Chinese armies arrayed along the Osan-Wonju line, but said:

"Prisoners from all these armies have been captured. Not all of the 21 Chinese Communist divisions that make up these armies are on the line at the same time, but they are within reasonable distance and available as immediate reinforcements.

Jury Returns Open Verdict

STETTLER, Jan. 10.—An open verdict was given by a coroner's jury here yesterday, investigating into the Christmas Eve death of Frank Nourse in a traffic accident south of Stettler.

The jury, presided over by Coroner Dr. J. M. Waddell, decided Nourse came to his death as the result of injuries received in the accident. RCMP reported the cause of death to be multiple injuries to the head and chest.

Also injured in the accident were Nourse children, Fay, Judy and Freddy.

'One-Eyed Butcher' of 8 Is Hunted In 6 States

EL CENTRO, Calif., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Jeeps loaded with federal officers ordered to "shoot to kill" rumbled south of the border today in a six-state manhunt for Bill Cook, the "one-eyed butcher" of eight persons.

The FBI here sent five more carloads into Mexico to join posses and planes searching desolate wastes where the 21-year-old gunman's escape car was found.

Meanwhile, citizens reported they thought they saw Cook all over the southwest.

Cook killed his eight victims, including a family of five, during a week's orgy of murder while hitchhiking westward from Oklahoma to California. He is missing one eye and wears one of glass in its place.

In Albuquerque, N.M., market cashier Mrs. Viola Shively said she definitely identified the pimply faced ex-convict yesterday when he bought two cans of food. She knew he was Cook, she said, because he had "Hard Luck" tattooed on his fingers.

Road blocks were manned throughout the southwest as a manhunt rivaling those for Jesse James and Billy the Kid gained momentum.

However, New Mexico state police said a search proved the clerk's story as "doubtful at this time."

According to the Childcraft advisory service in Chicago, the consuming ambition of the average six-year-old boy is to be as much like his father as possible.

Exodus of Doomsday Group Still Awaited In B.C. Town

KEREMEOS, B.C., Jan. 10—(CP)—Exodus of the "Children of Light" was expected to start today, with the world still holding its own with the other planets.

The "day of reckoning" had passed and the leader of the 34-member religious cult had promised that her younger followers will return to the schoolroom today.

It was expected that if they did—and the school board didn't anticipate any trouble—the older cult members, too, would leave the ramshackle cottage where they spent the last 15 days awaiting doomsday or "a message from God."

Bobby McLean, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Clara Mueller, left the cult cottage last night after his mother had threatened legal action against the leader, Mrs. Grace Carlson.

Eleven school children were in the cottage, where the white-garbed extremists awaited "K" day, which ended yesterday without the expected manifestation of heavenly prophecy.

Townspeople, in waiting, heeded the announcement made by Mrs. Carlson, a former member of the Pentecostal church: "Our exit will be terrific—you'll know it."

The shuttered and barred cottage stands in the shadow of "K" mountain. The "K", says an old legend, stands for "Kingdom."

Mrs. Mueller's son was talked into coming to his mother last night by Sgt. Pat Brabazon, an RCMP constable from Penticton, B.C.

Mrs. Mueller had filed a complaint for the return of her son after receiving the report of a "vigilante committee", led by Ernie McFadzen, a cook in her Keremeos restaurant. But legal action wasn't needed.

McFadzen and three companions stormed the cottage. Afterward, he told police:

"A man, naked except for a shirt, got up and shouted 'get a shotgun, get a shotgun.'"

He said he overheard Mrs. Carlson giving a sermon and "conversing with God."

Empire Heads Watching All Korea Moves

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Commonwealth representatives today continued unity talks with anxious ears cocked to new British and Indian efforts to bring the United States and Communist China together on the Korean issue.

India was reported offering, or ready to offer, the Chinese Reds a time-table for the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea as an inducement to secure a permanent cease-fire from Peiping.

British representatives in the United States meanwhile were trying to get the Americans to at least postpone formally charging the Chinese Communists before the United Nations with aggression.

At Lake Success, preparations for a final United Nations peace appeal to Peiping, a British suggestion—already were delaying formal introduction of an American accusation against the Communist Chinese.

Meanwhile most Commonwealth leaders, conference sources said, seemed ready to go along with the United States in a program of rebuilding Japanese military forces.

FOUR CONDITIONS

The prime ministers meeting here were said, however, to consider necessary these four conditions:

1—Japanese military strength should be linked to the non-Communist countries and the United States should be permitted to base troops in Japan.

2—Countries signing a Japanese treaty should agree to act together if a rearmed Japan should attack any one of them.

3—Japanese air and sea power

Indo-China Said Target For Chinese Commies

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalist defence minister today said part of the Chinese Communist forces in Korea are being moved back into China amid strong indications of plans for a push into Indo-China.

The ministry said so-called volunteers would be used in Indo-China. That was the term applied by the Chinese Communists to troops intervening in the Korean war.

The ministry said Chinese Red intentions to intervene in Indo-China were seen in five developments:

1. Movement of part of the Communist troops in Korea back into China proper.

2. Movement of junks and other craft loaded with military supplies from Canton to the gulf of Tonkin.

3. Reinforcements of the 300,000 Chinese Red troops on the China-Indo-China border.

4. Expansion of airfields in Southwest China and reinforcement by two squadrons of Russian-built jets.

5. Continued conferences at Nanking by Chinese Red Generals, Soviet Russian advisers and representatives of Ho Chi Minh, Communist rebel leader in Indo-China.

Mr. F. L. Wolfe, 270 West 48th Avenue, Vancouver, is a well-known and expert jewelry man for the last two years suffered from lack of energy. His appetite was not good and although he had tried many things to get relief, had not been successful. Here is what Mr. Wolfe says in his own words:

"Before taking SARNAK I was tired and run-down and had no appetite. Since taking SARNAK my appetite is that of a logger and I feel one hundred per cent better. I highly recommend SARNAK and hope many others will benefit from it as I did. Thank you many other remedies without good results I almost passed up trying SARNAK but I am happy that your advertisement persuaded me to do so."

Yes you should try SARNAK . . . as have thousands of others in Canada who suffer from rheumatic, neuritic and arthritic pain, sciatica, backache, lumbago or neuralgia, some minor forms of kidney and liver upsets, bilious dizzy spells, nutritional anemia, lack of vitality and nervousness caused by these symptoms. SARNAK is so effective for aches and pains and general run-down condition that you usually get results within the first few days.

Make up your mind to give SARNAK a chance to help you as it has helped thousands of others who had gone on day after day suffering. Thousands of bottles of SARNAK are sold every day in Canada. Remember, there are no substitutes for SARNAK. Always insist on the genuine SARNAK. In some rural sections where there are few drug stores, SARNAK may be difficult to obtain. Don't pay anyone more than $1.35 a bottle. Order by mail from your druggist or mail order house to assure yourself not paying grey market prices. If one druggist does not have SARNAK, try another.

ONLY DOCTOR WORRIED

Young Polio Victim Makes Perilous Journey in 'Lung'

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10—(AP)—Tommy Fassnacht made a slow, perilous, 70-mile trip in an iron lung today and wasn't a bit afraid.

Everyone else was.

"Oh boy, am I glad we made that," said Dr. Page M. Schildknecht when his 17-year-old polio patient was safely installed in children's hospital school.

Dr. Schildknecht estimates Tommy can't live longer than six minutes without his iron lung. The strapping Lancaster, Pa., boy is so badly paralyzed he cannot use the portable respirators designed for such transfers.

The ticklish problem in transferring him here for convalescent treatment was to be sure there would be an unfailing source of power for its motors.

Two gasoline-powered generators were rigged up in a small trailer which was hooked onto the moving van which carried the lung.

Eight times between Lancaster and Baltimore the gasoline motors failed.

"Tommy showed no sign of fear or strain any time," said his mother, Mrs. Lawrence Fassnacht.

Dr. Schildknecht said there was no time when he was in any real danger, despite the power failures.

Linemen from three utility companies accompanied the caravan. Each time the gasoline engines sputtered, one of them quickly climbed a pole to power lines along the road and set up a connection. The power men had carefully surveyed the route beforehand, making sure an electric line could be reached in a hurry.

PRETTY GIRL is like a melody, particularly when she poses admiringly with chinchilla, luxurious little annimal—inflation or no inflation. Carmel Caldwell, 10182-89 street, fondles one of chinchillas on display at Alberta Fox and Mink Pelt Show at Massey-Harris building, 103 avenue. It takes about 200 chinchillas to make coat, which sells for $35,000 and more.

Fox and Mink Pelt Show Rank's With Continent's Best

A collection of furs that compares favorably with any on the continent was yesterday exhibited as the Alberta Fox and Mink Pelt Show opened in Edmonton.

This comment came from George Harris, of the Hudson's Bay Company fur department, Montreal, and chief judge at the show, held in the Massey-Harris show room, 10616-103 avenue.

600 ENTRIES

Four hundred mink and 200 fox entries were displayed for the judge's eye during the day.

Entries were submitted by all leading fur farms in Alberta, as well as Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Show will continue today and tomorrow, highlighted by exhibition of live chinchillas today under auspices of the National Chinchilla Breeders of Canada. Exhibit will be open until 10 o'clock tonight.

Prize-winners yesterday were announced by Hugh J. Montgomery and John Kokolsky, prominent fur breeders of Edmonton and Wetaskiwin, respectively.

Highly-regarded awards for silver sable, both medium and dark, went to L. R. Gorham, Edmonton.

Championship awards in both fox and mink pelts will be decided today, with cups awarded by Alberta department of Agriculture going to each winner.

Edmonton Medicos Study Wonder Drug

New Scheme Underway To Assist City Doctors

Latest developments in the use of cortisone and ACTH —so called wonder drugs—were being studied today by Edmonton's medical profession.

Over 100 doctors and medical students were in attendance today as a team of five medical authorities attached to the University of Alberta medical faculty reported on recent findings in the field.

The symposium staged here today by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, as part of a nation-wide Canadian Medical Association program, was the first of three scheduled by the Alberta division of the association.

Others will be held at Calgary, tomorrow, and Lethbridge, Friday.

The Edmonton team of Dr. R. K. Thomson, Dr. D. R. Wilson, Dr. R. E. Bell, Dr. G. F. Bell and Dr. T. Aaron will travel to the other Alberta centres to share lectures with local medical men.

GIVE WARNING

Doctors said the round-up of information on cortisone and ACTH would enable medical men in Canada to catch up on developments that would not appear in medical journals for some time.

The symposiums are aimed at affording every doctor in the province a chance to hear of these developments, they said.

Local medical men said use of the drugs was still a matter of great complexity and warned against accounts of magic cures.

Stricken Man Flown 'Out'

A regularly scheduled RCAF transport flight was re-routed last night to perform a mercy flight in Canada's far north.

The plane, a 45 Transport Squadron Dakota, was on a routine cargo flight from Coral Harbor on Southampton Island, N.W.T., to Churchill, Man., when a radio message from Air Transport Command at Rockcliffe, Ont., instructed the plane to go to Baker Lake, N.W.T.

A Department of Transport radio operator there, R. E. Erickson of Edmonton, was thought to be suffering from acute appendicitis.

Erickson was flown to Winnipeg for treatment last night and will be brought to Edmonton this morning if his condition permits.

He has been stationed at Baker Lake, 1,500 air miles from the North Pole, for the past year.

His wife resides at 11312 66 street.

Death Takes V. L. Smith

Resident of Edmonton for 42 years, V. LeRoy Smith, 67, of 10154-83 avenue, died at his home yesterday.

Mr. Smith, born in Lemmon, South Dakota, came to Canada in 1905 and three years later took up residence in the city. Until his retirement in 1947, he had been employed with the provincial public works department.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, J. Reginald, Edmonton; Gerald, Sudbury; Robert of Kenora, B.C.; and Douglas of Red Deer; two daughters, Miss Gladys Smith of Toronto, and Mrs. Alvin LePage, Madison, Wis.; and one sister, Mrs Elizabeth Hanna, of Lemman.

Private funeral services will be held Thursday, 2 p.m. at Hainstock and Son Funeral Chapel, Rev. Reid E. Vipond officiating. Burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Car Owners Get Off Easy With 3 Thefts

City auto owners got a welcome reprieve from car thefts last night when only three stolen vehicles were reported to police.

Cars stolen belonged to A. O. Kennedy, 12018-123 street; Roy Clarke, 10044-102 street; Dominion Motors, 107 street and Jasper.

All three thefts occurred between 7 and 10 p.m.

New Building Plans Talked

Officials of Royal Trust Company are meeting with civic officials this afternoon to discuss plans for construction of a Jasper avenue office building.

E. D. Parker, Montreal, assistant general manager of the company and Robert Steele, local manager, have been conferring since the first of the week on a proposed five-storey building to be erected on the Arcade property, west of Royal Bank's main Jasper avenue building.

City council last spring refused the company's offer of $60,000 for the property because the company would not agree to build more than a two-storey building.

The company said there was no guarantee it could find tenants for the five-story building which aldermen stipulated.

Since then the company has renewed efforts to buy the property.

Following this afternoon's meeting, Mr. Parker will return to Montreal.

Store Detective Nabs Pilferer Of Pencil Sets

Donald Campbell, no fixed address, was fined $15 on each of two charges of stealing pen and pencil sets from two downtown stores Tuesday.

Campbell pleaded guilty to both offenses before Magistrate S. G Main in city police court.

He was caught by a store detective when he attempted to leave the store with a stolen set. When searched, the second set was found on him.

'No Business' Meet Held

Members of the Gyro Club last night held a "no business, business meeting."

For nearly four hours some 55 club members enjoyed themselves in general conversation and did not discuss business as previously scheduled.

Meeting, held in the Manderin Gardens, was under the chairmanship of president D. W. Dobbiedick.

GOLD FINDS ASSURE FUTURE OF NORTHLAND

Many new gold discoveries will be found in Canada's northland, according to Prof. Walter Lilge, department of mining and metallurgy, University of Alberta.

Prof. Lilge addressed the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the South Side Rotary club at Strathcona Presbyterian church. Speaking on Yellowknife "one of Canada's last frontiers", Prof. Lilge reported it had high potential mineral wealth.

He said so many gold discoveries had been made over so great an area in the north that it is fairly certain many more mines will be found and put on production.

"In the civilized confines of Canada, there is very little unknown mineral wealth," he said.

Registration in mining courses throughout Canadian universities is on the decline, according to Prof. Lilge.

"This is not due to a lack of employment opportunities," he said, but because of an impression among young Canadians that they will have to withstand great hardship to explore these northern mining areas."

"With the radio, airplane, and other modern conveniences, this is no longer true," said Prof. Lilge.

Food Sanitation Is Film Subject

Plans to instruct the public in the importance of restaurant and food handling sanitation are now underway by the provincial health department.

Dr. Norman Baxter, director of communicable diseases, said today that two motion picture films emphasizing cleanliness in restaurants and in food handling operations have been obtained by the department for public showings.

38 Years of Social Service End for Brigadier Ward

A short, kindly-faced man dressed in a Salvation Army uniform and known affectionately to hundreds of prisoners in the city jail as "The Brigadier" will retire from active service in the "Army" next Wednesday.

He is 65-year-old Brig. Arthur Ward, head of the men's social department, police court, and prison officer.

For two and a half years, white-haired Brig. Ward has been a familiar face in police court.

With a manner that was sympathetic and understanding, he has interviewed the daily parade of unfortunates who landed in the cells.

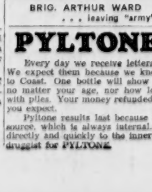

Whenever help was possible, there was a promise of aid . . . whenever aid was impossible, the prisoner also was left with the knowledge that the "Sally Ann" was still on his side.

ALWAYS A FRIEND

Through Brigadier Ward's efforts, many a wayward boy and girl has been sent back home—often thousands of miles away—to their parents.

The derelicts that formed part of the daily police court parade always knew they had a friend in him.

Part of his duties were to visit prisoners in Fort Saskatchewan, carry messages to them from their relatives and try to cheer them up.

BRIG. ARTHUR WARD . . . leaving "army"

Brig. Ward has given 38 years of his life in the service of the army. He started in the service as a young man of 27 and his risen to his present rank through a devotion to duty and a sincere desire to aid his fellow man.

LEAVES FOR TORONTO

He began his career—which has taken him from coast to coast—when he was commissioned in 1912 from the training college in Toronto as a Salvation Army leader. During the past 38 years, he has served in Toronto, Halifax, Montreal, St. John's and to Vancouver where he has attended conferences.

Next Wednesday, he and Mrs. Ward will leave for Toronto, his birthplace, to make his new home in the suburbs.

Thursday night, prominent citizens of Edmonton will honor Brig Ward at a banquet in The Citadel at 8 p.m.

2 Motorists Are Dismayed

Two city motorists learned to their dismay last night that you can't tangle with a heavy road grader and come out on top.

First to learn was Fred Kowal, 12011-90 street, who was in collision with the road grader clearing snow on 118 avenue at 87 street.

While the grader's operator, Eldon Herbert, 10158-105 street, was discussing the accident with Kowal, a second car, driven by Robert Shopland, Chauvin, piled into the rear of the machine.

No one was injured.

Damage to each car was extensive.

The grader was barely scratched.

Stewart Graham Heads East Edmonton Liberals

East Edmonton Liberals last night elected optician Stewart Graham as president of the federal constituency association.

He succeeds W. R. Brownlee.

Approximately 100 attended the meeting held in McCauley Community hall.

Following were elected vice-presidents: Joseph Pilon, Mrs. G. Dearing, J. C. McIntyre, Mrs. W. Wefr and Peter Greschuk.

The meeting elected Dr. Faust Gowda as secretary and Andrew Ryan as treasurer.

An amendment to the association constitution, proposedby Mrs. Cora Casselmen, former East Edmonton MP, provided for election of five vice-presidents instead of one.

A. Fred Macdonald, MP for the Edmonton East constituency, delivered a brief address.

SEES TEST REMOVED

He predicted higher taxes in 1951 but felt people would willingly pay more because of the great need for military preparedness.

He also forecast removal of the means test for old age pensioners before the end of the year.

Mr. Macdonald said rail disputes should be settled by an impartial tribunal.

The meeting agreed to send a vote of confidence to Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Jail Flight Draws Term

Escape from Jasper Place jail Monday night brought James King, 9357-91 street, a sentence of two months imprisonment yesterday.

Originally arrested for speeding, King pleaded guilty to latter charge and to a charge of escaping custody.

Magistrate Cunningham of Jasper Place fined King $25 and costs for speeding and suspended his driving license for the rest of the year.

King was arrested by Acting Chief constable Joseph Bremner at 7:10 Monday night. He was locked in a cell at the police station, but escaped around 9 p.m. by prying open some timbers between the ceiling and cell door.

Starting off on foot, the prisoner later returned to his car, which was parked near the police station.

His get-away was short-lived. At about 10:30 p.m., Det. Sian Hooper and Det. Martin Ursel of the city police arrested King near 90 avenue and 91 street, and returned him into Chief constable Bremner's custody.

T. D. Stanley, Calgary Power production superintendent, Calgary, will address the regular dinner meeting of the Edmonton branch, Engineering Institute of Canada, tonight at the Macdonald.

Mr. Stanley will speak on the hydro development at Spray Lakes.

At Least It's A Start

It is impossible to get frightfully enthusiastic about the appointment of a three-man committee of the city council to study the need for reorganization and increase in Edmonton's police force and equipment for two reasons:

1. Because the need for an increase stands out a mile and has been proved time after time.

2. Because Aldermen Ford, Clarke and Innes, while they are competent and intelligent men, simply don't have the police knowledge and experience to decide authoritatively whether the police department requires reorganization or not.

So far as the increase is concerned, any citizen can judge for himself whether 111 constables can begin to adequately police a city of 160,000 people.

There is no city of any size anywhere which tries to maintain law and order, under circumstances comparable to those of Edmonton, with a ratio of one constable to each 1441 of population.

Certainly no city, which is known from one end of the continent to the other as a "boom town" and, as such, holds out inducements to every crook in North America, could begin to afford real security with such a meagre force.

The traffic situation is even more grossly impossible.

Here we have a busy, growing city with a constantly increasing stream of motor traffic, a city which has no traffic system to speak of, a city where there is a tradition of flouting the traffic law.

And we expect to enforce that traffic law with 14 constables and two sergeants.

That expectation is ludicrous any way you look at it.

Chief Constable Jennings has asked for more constables and more equipment. Why is it necessary to set up a committee of three aldermen to investigate that request when common sense and experience so plainly endorse and justify it?

So far as reorganization is concerned, it is difficult to see how three aldermen and two commissioners, however competent they may be in their own lines of work, can determine whether or not the force needs to be reorganized.

If the efficiency of Chief Jennings and his assistants had ever been brought into question, it might be a different story. But the fact that the higher officers of police have maintained this city so miraculously free of major crime, comparatively speaking, should be proof, ipso facto, that they are doing an amazing job.

If there was any doubt of their efficiency, no one would be demanding more loudly than The Edmonton Bulletin a complete professional survey of the force. And if anyone can show inefficiency, they can count on the full support of this newspaper in urging such a survey.

While we do not believe the present committee can add much to what the public already knows and believes, we do not condemn its formation because it indicates that council has at least made a start in clearing up the numerical inadequacy of the force.

In its willingness to name such a committee, council has shown itself to be aware of the grave danger in a depleted police department, a development which we were beginning to believe would have be precipitated without a major crime wave, as consciousness of a weak fire department had to be awakened by a disastrous fire.

Position of Alderman Hawrelak

While it may be possible to criticize rather severely some of the details of Alderman William Hawrelak's administration as acting mayor, most citizens will be glad of the assurance that he will stay in office until March 30 when, Edmonton hopes, Mayor Sidney Parsons will be back on the job restored to health.

This approval of council's action in confirming Mr. Hawrelak as deputy mayor for his regular term, January 17 to March 30, is based, it should be understood, not so much on admiration for the gentleman himself, as on the need for a continuity of administration which would not be secured if two or three or four aldermen came in to pinch-hit, in turns, for Mayor Parsons.

Notwithstanding this approval, many citizens would be glad if council would clarify Mr. Hawrelak's position in view of the understanding of many that his regular period as deputy mayor was advanced from January 17 to the moment of Mayor Parson's departure because Alderman Ford, then deputy mayor, was not able to act.

This would mean that he had already served his term as deputy mayor out of turn.

This belief may be a misconception. But it is held by many and council should put it right to keep the record straight.

What Goes On Inside Russia?

Press analysts of the international situation have expressed the opinion that the democracies would be in a poor position to deal with a Russian blow at Europe should that blow be delivered now.

They express some surprise that Russia has not already commenced aggression before General Dwight D. Eisenhower has had a chance to organize Europe's defence and train manpower for it.

One press observer says there are two possible answers to Russia's failure to strike at once:

1. The American advantage in atomic bombs.

2. Chaotic conditions within Russia herself.

This second reason for Russia's delay is well worth consideration.

The possibility of internal trouble within the Soviet Union presents itself as a happy hope, not only for postponement of con world struggle, but for the complete disappearance of international communism as a world threat.

It should be remembered, in support of that hope, that exactly the same social and economic factors which precipitated the Kerensky and Lenin revolutions in 1917 still exist in Russia in even more exaggerated form than they did in czarist days.

There is the same, if not greater, oppression, the same unrest, the same injustice and the same fear.

Moreover, the Kerensky and Lenin upheavals gave the Russian people a formula for revolution which they never possessed before.

Consideration of this point tends to lift the dreadful apprehension that communism is a permanent and eternal menace that can only be defeated by a destructive war of all nations.

Waste of Oil Showed Texas Vital Need for Conservation

What would have happened to Leduc and Redwater oil fields if there had been no Oil and Gas Conservation Board, and if they had been developed under the practices of "every man for himself," and "first come, first served?"

In Dec. 16 issue of Editor and Publisher, Harold B. Miller, executive director of Oil Industry Information Committee, New York, tells what happened to the discovery well in Texas under free-for-all development. He writes:

Half a century ago, on January 10, 1901, a Texas rancher named Charley Ingalls rode into Beaumont and complained bitterly to his friends, "I got a fifty dollar well out at Spindletop and the blame thing is ruining my land."

That "blame thing" was the Lucas well, one of the most fabulous oil wells ever known. For nine days it spewed 75,000 to 100,000 barrels of crude a day 200 feet into the air. Discovery of the Spindletop field helped make Texas the greatest oil state in the country.

Anniversary On Jan. 10

The people of Texas have set aside the whole of 1951 to commemorate this famous well and a celebration in the true Texas tradition has been planned for January 10 in Beaumont. Men and women from business and government will be on hand. Texans have always been slogan happy the year, "Spindletop—Where Oil Became An Industry."

Spindletop stimulated the imagination of tens of thousands of Americans. From all sections, oil men descended on Beaumont. Eventually, they spread over Texas and surrounding states in search for oil. Drilling rigs sprung up over night. Many men struck oil; many more did not.

Those who did, took it from the earth as fast as they could, lest some other driller on a neighboring plot tap the same source.

Because they did not know how to conserve reservoir energy, men produced their wells to capacity and exhausted rich fields within a short while. Surplus oil was stored behind earthen dikes where much of it was lost when it evaporated or seeped back into the earth.

Lesson Learned The Hard Way

Oil men soon learned, however, that if oil were withdrawn from the earth too fast, the gas or water pressure which forces the oil to the surface or to the pump is dissipated so rapidly that much of the available crude cannot be recovered.

Endless research determines the most efficient rates of production for each field. It also shows that systematic spacing of wells reduces development costs and conserves underground pressure.

Texas began early to conserve oil resources on the basis of these scientific findings. Other states followed suit. In 1935, with Congressional authorization, the Interstate Oil Compact Commission was formed as a medium through which oil-producing states could co-operate in setting up and exchanging information on conservation practices.

Sound engineering methods now enable oil men to control a well's flow from the moment oil is struck, so that gushers, which once threw oil wastefully into the air, are as obsolete as horse-drawn trolleys.

The whole petroleum industry and the nation have grown tremendously since the days of the Lucas well, and each has aided the other in that growth.

Smiles

Lawyer: "I understand the two men were fighting with rivals; didn't you try to make peace between them?"

Witness: "There wasn't another chair in the room."

A recruit, fed up with army life, thought he would try to "work his ticket." He sketched a duck on the barrack-room wall and began to throw crumbs of bread to it.

When a sergeant saw him, he gave him a large shovel.

"What's this for?" asked the recruit, continuing his half-wit pretence.

"You go into the field at the back," replied the sergeant, "and dig and dig until you come to water for a pond. Then your duck can swim in real water, and not on a brain-wave."

An elderly woman bought a cottage on the American-Canadian border. Both governors sent surveyors to find out which country she was in. One surveyor finally said, "I'm positive that your cottage is on the American side by three inches."

"I'm so glad," replied the woman. "I've heard that the winters in Canada are so severe."

Boss—How is it that you are only carrying one sack? The other workmen carry two.

Laborer—Well, I suppose they are too lazy to make two trips like I do.

The Unseen Audience

By Webster

Letters to the Editor

Auditorium Location

Editor, Bulletin—In answer to a letter by R. T. Dykes re Auditorium proposed location in the Fair Grounds, published in The Journal Dec. 22, 1950.

His reasons for supporting that site are weak. The statement that no site capable of providing parking facilities for 1,200 cars in addition to the Auditorium exists downtown is wrong.

Neither he nor the Exhibition Board has canvassed the possibilities in modern building techniques or trends developing for the solution of the parking problem; thereby showing a total disregard to the present and future requirements of this fast growing city.

I suggest that all avenues be explored before any decision is made.

Alderman Clarke's Civic Centre Committee could well consider this matter.

I contend that a CENTRAL SITE measuring 710 feet by 540 feet exists, upon which can be built, not only the Auditorium, but a real STADIUM as well, capable of seating up to fourteen thousand people.

Incorporated also, two large buildings suitable for City uses, such as a City Hall and Offices, a Recreational Centre of 32,000 square feet, and a swimming pool is possible.

Room for additional facilities such as a Museum, Art Gallery, etc., can be included.

Perhaps the most desirable feature would be an under cover A.L.T. WEIRER TRANSFER POINT for the Transit System, and parking means for fifty buses.

A need common to each of the foregoing would be automatic parking means for thirty-five hundred cars.

A model illustrating a civic Centre envisioned in the foregoing was built over eighteen months ago, and the writer will gladly co-operate with any interested groups by loaning this model, with the hope that it may serve as a means to crystalize the sentiments of our Citizens towards creating our requirements and the means to obtain same.

It is not claimed that this model is either complete or an end in itself, but it is claimed as being a means by which the best possible use may be made of our most desirable site, to the greatest advantage of the greatest number.

An advantage being its development by stages rather than as a complete project.

'COMPO-SITE'.

Immigration Opposed

Editor, Bulletin—It may sound like a popular song, but can anyone explain why we immigrants coming into this country at $30.00 a head? Does the government really mean that if a person can raise $30.00 he can immigrate to this country as long as he works for one year for a Canadian Employer?

How silly! Who else is he going to work for if not a Canadian Employer. After all, all he needs is $30.00. Who feeds and clothes him while he is awaiting a job?

It would be nice if a Canadian could go to the U.S.A. for a mere $30.00 cash plus a guarantee to loan repayable up to 24 months. I'm sure if it wasn't so tough both financially and fraught with government red tape many young Canadians of good education and skilled training would be on their way. There is still room and money in Canada and we have been informed by the newspaper and radio that the farm situation is a blow to our National Economy.

If so, why this mad rush for more people? Could it be that there may be an opportunity for these people here at home to fill the shoes of the lads who are slated for another war to end all wars. Will these potential new Canadians be eligible to serve in Canada's Armed Forces or will it be that it will take years and years before they can be considered patriotic enough to serve a country which can afford all these opportunities for new Canadians at $30.00 a head.

Prayer For Peace

PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE

Yesterday.
The world was gay our hearts were so at peace
The little children laughed at play, "Oh, never let that cease."
The old folk laughed in summer sunshine also felt content
And nature donned her fairest robes, all was magnificent.

Today.
There is a lull around the peace of yesterday.
The children laugh but are their hearts as light as yesterday.
I surely hope they are for they weren't meant for thoughts of war
There should be laughter on their lips and Peace forevermore.

Tomorow.
What will it bring forth?
Will it be war-filled too?
Or will it be a happy day with peace to see us thru.
How I wish and as I wish my heart will also pray
Wouldn't it be Heaven if tomorrow were as yesterday?

IRENE SPELLMAN PATTERSON.

Report Corrected

Editor, Bulletin: In the Dec. 29 Edmonton Bulletin appears an article on the sport page under the name of Ernie Fedoruk which we think needs correction.

There is no such organization as the Northern Alberta Football Association. We are taking it for granted he means the Edmonton and District Football Association and in that organization there is no such name as Steve Nagy in membership as stated in said article. Neither did Mr. Nagy advance new ideas regarding the administration of Canadian soccer at the meeting which he attended.

If the article by Fedoruk is meant as a publicity stunt, it is a poor one. Untruths and false advertising is injurious to all sports.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, MD.

Progress Being Made Over Mental Diseases

Sensible Mrs. A sees visions of things which are not there, mild-mannered Mr. B. becomes irritable and picks fights at the drop of a hat, rich young Bill gets picked up by the police for stealing oranges.

These changes in behavior may mean a "nervous breakdown." Perhaps it is merely the result of worry or overwork, or perhaps a sign of serious mental difficulty.

Dr. Jordan

The term "nervous breakdown" is used for many different conditions, and it isn't surprising, therefore, that some people who are supposed to have a nervous breakdown get along better than others. Someone who suffers only from a mild case of nervous exhaustion caused by overwork may need a good rest and nothing more.

Finding Cause Isn't Easy

Just as in other human ailments the problem is to find out what is causing the mental difficulty. This is not always easy. The causes of many mental conditions are not thoroughly understood.

Some of them may come from the busy strains of modern life and the great mental tensions produced by the world of today. Others, no one knows how many, are possibly related to heredity.

Psychotherapy (which is mental treatment administered by brain specialists), rest, physical therapy including hot or cold baths, hand work, and shock treatments are often helpful and have brought thousands back to normal.

Although much still has to be learned about causes, prevention, and treatment of the various kinds of mental diseases, progress is already far advanced and even better results will surely come.

Come Back To Normal

The fortunate thing is that many of the Mrs. A's, Mr. B's, and Bills will recover and find themselves quite normal again.

It is a good idea to remember that lots of people who have gone away for a while with a nervous breakdown come back to their family and friends entirely restored. When they do they should be welcomed back accordingly and treated normally.

Elmore Philpott

Opinion Fairly Unanimous On What Year Will Bring

Here are the answers given by a typical group of Canadians at a New Year's Eve party:

Will there be a world war in 1951, involving U.S.A. and Russia?

No, 96 per cent.

Will U.S. armies completely abandon Korea in 1951, either under compulsion, or otherwise?

Yes, 80 per cent.

Will Chiang Kai-Shek still control Formosa by end of 1951?

No, 58 per cent.

Will Hong Kong still be held by Britain by end of 1951?

Yes, 82 per cent.

Will Western Germany be rearmed in 1951, with completely German units under German officers?

Yes, 60 per cent.

Will Tito still head the government of Yugoslavia by end of 1951?

Yes, 92 per cent.

Will Stalin still head the government of Russia by end of 1951?

Yes, 96 per cent.

Will St. Laurent still head government of Canada by end of 1951?

Yes, 96 per cent.

British Affairs

Will Attlee still head government of Britain by end of 1951?

Yes: 85 per cent.

Will Britain have another general election in 1951?

No. 66 per cent.

Will the stolen Stone of Scone (Coronation Stone) be recovered in 1951?

Yes, 72 per cent.

If the stolen Stone of Scone is found, in what country will that take place?

Scotland, 36 per cent.

England, 36 per cent.

Britain, 7 per cent.

The above percentages do not completely tally with those in the former question, because some who figured that the stone would not be found at all nevertheless answered the one about the place of discovery.

Will Princess Margaret be engaged to be married in 1951?

Yes, 72 per cent.

Will General MacArthur still be in command of U.S. forces in the Far East by the end of 1951?

No, 58 per cent.

Korea Won't Be Abandoned

Looking over my own list of answers, I see that I differed from the great majority only in one important item.

I figured that there would be no world war, that Chiang would hold Formosa, Britain would hold Hong Kong, and that Tito, Stalin, St. Laurent and Attlee would all hold their jobs another year, and that Princess Margaret would be betrothed.

Philpott

I figured that the Stone of Scone would turn up—in Scotland (but I'm not so sure about that word "discovered"). But while I agreed with the majority that General MacArthur was unlikely to hold his job for another year, I did not agree with the majority that Korea would be completely abandoned by the UN armies.

It is, of course, necessary to take age into consideration in answering questions about Tito, Stalin, St. Laurent, Attlee and, of course, MacArthur.

Some of the quiz participants wanted conditionally to answer the ones about whether the statesmen would hold their jobs another year. They wanted to say that so-and-so would still head the government if alive. The rules would not admit that.

But after all, the risk of death of powerful leaders is one of the most important factors.

Stalin's passing, for instance, might have as profound a world effect, for better or worse, as did Roosevelt's. I figure Molotov as more war-minded than Stalin.

HATCHET BURIED

Lakehead Cities Join In Seeking Industries

Port Arthur's civic finance committee has decided it should bury the hatchet and try to work with next-door Fort William in enticing new industries to the Lakehead.

The committee has agreed to the principle of a joint industrial committee which would advertise the benefits to industry of establishing Lakehead plants—whether in Port Arthur or Fort William.

"A new industry established in either city is of benefit to both cities," said Alderman Earl Riddell.

The Joint-committee plan came to the finance body from Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce. It died in with a suggestion by Alderman Mrs. Eunice Wishart that a special effort be made to bring new war industries to Port Arthur.

Mrs. Wishart's civic tourist committee worked with a similar Fort William committee until Fort William withdrew from the arrangement.

"We must be above cut-throat business," she said.

Letters Sent To Governments

Letters will be sent to the Ontario department of development at Toronto and to the resources department at Ottawa, describing advantages for war industries here.

Mrs. Wishart said that when she was in Duluth, Minn., recently she found plants being geared for a possibility of 15 years of war. Port Arthur's population was growing and more job opportunity was needed for its people.

The government had helped many industries to establish in Ontario but none had come to Port Arthur.

Trivia

Average European farm consists of less than 24 acres; average U.S. farm has an area of 174 acres.

More people come down with colds on Monday than any other day of the week.

There is less than one chance in a hundred that a mechanical device capable of setting off a hyrogen bomb can be constructed, Dr. Robert A. Millikan says. The triggering mechanism would have to be "atom bomb proof," he explained.

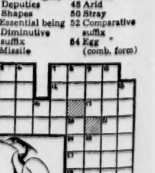

The 83-year-old physicist, a Nobel Laureate in 1923 and a scientific pioneer for half a century, declared that he could not flatly assert that the hydrogen bomb cannot be built. But development of the hydrogen weapon is a task "enormously larger" than the construction of the atomic bomb, he declared.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Europe Defence Survey Satisfies Eisenhower

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10—(AP)—The first two stops of his 10-country tour of western Europe have left Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "reasonably well satisfied" with his survey of defence prospects.

This summary of his findings on his defence survey in France and Belgium was made by one of the general's associates as the Atlantic Pact commander moved into closing meetings of his stay in Belgium before moving on to The Netherlands.

He had at least one bright reason for being happy. Despite the fulminations of the Communist press, a large crowd gathered in front of the Hotel Metropole last night and cheered him as he left for dinner with American Ambassador Robert Murphy.

The showing was in contrast to the apathetic reaction of non-Communist Paris crowds to the general's return to that city five years after his armies had liberated it from Hitler.

In the French capital, the chief public response to Eisenhower was a demonstration yesterday against his visit by about 4,000 Communists. The Reds failed, however, in their advertised plans to tie up the city with a strike.

Peace With China Group Is Formed

LONDON, Jan. 9—(AP)—The National Peace Council last night adopted a resolution calling for the admission of Red China to the United Nations and formed a "Peace with China" organization.

The council is a private body which includes representatives of all British political parties except the Communists. It is headed by Lord Boyd Orr, Nobel Peace Prize winner in 1949.

COSTA HARD TO DISCOURAGE

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Jan. 10 — (AP) — Costa Nicholas Yovonovich, 30, said in traffic court that he had been driving a car without a licence for 15 years because he couldn't pass a driving test.

Yovonovich, charged with being a unlicenced driver, paid a $100 fine yesterday. He previously had been arrested 13 times on traffic charges.

France Bans Sales To Chinese Reds

PARIS, Jan. 9.—(AP)—France has virtually shut off all shipments to China that might bolster the Communist war machine there, well-informed sources said yesterday. Steel products, in particular, it was said, have been restricted. Word has been passed to customs officials to hold up export licences for certain categories of goods.

DEAD BOY'S EYES WILL SAVE SIGHT FOR GIRL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The eyes of a little boy were removed minutes after he died and have been donated by the child's parents to help save the sight of a teen-age girl unknown to them.

The father and mother, Hevner and Norma Koolgaard, were at the hospital bedside Monday night when seven-year-old Stephen died.

He was hit by an automobile last Saturday as he rode his bicycle in a Philadelphia suburb.

A university hospital doctor mentioned to the grieving parents the possibility of using Stephen's eyes to save another's sight.

The Koolgaards consented.

"I didn't regard it as a gesture," Koolgaard said today. "I believe Stephen would have wanted it that way."

Surgeons removed the child's eyes so that they could use the healthy corneas—the "front windows" of the eyes—in a delicate transplanting operation needed by a girl in the hospital.

Dr. Harold G. Scheie of the University of Pennsylvania, who will perform the operation, would not disclose the name of his patient.

Stockpiling Urged On Australians

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 9 — (Reuters)—Arthur W. Fadden, Australian acting prime minister, said last night that Australia's stockpiling policy must be implemented quickly.

Plans to speed government stockpiling of war materials dominated a meeting of the National Security Resources board here yesterday, he said. Fadden said no plans have been considered for the compulsory direction of labor.

CAT GETS INTO ACT

CRANBROOK, B.C., Jan. 10.—(CP)—The hunters looked again and shuddered. There was a stranger on the photograph.

The sportsmen had stacked up their game on the fenders of their car and posed proudly alongside for the usual photo.

When the photo was developed, the stranger appeared. Hanging from a branch immediately above the hunters was a cougar, drooling.

Construction Meet

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 — (CP) — The Canadian Construction Association today announced that it will hold its 33rd annual meeting at Quebec Jan. 21-24. More than 800 delegates are expected to attend.

The United States government as such has never borrowed money from the British government.

Polio March of Dimes Under Doctors' Attack

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Two prominent doctors today criticized the Canadian March of Dimes campaign to raise funds for treatment of poliomyelitis victims.

In an editorial in Health magazine, published by the Health League of Canada, Dr. Gordon Bates, league president, said the campaign "may not be justified." It claimed that poliomyelitis is far less serious than whooping cough, diphtheria and other diseases.

In an article accompanying the editorial, Dr. Alan Brown, physician-in-chief of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, said the funds would be better spent in research and treatment of cancer, tuberculosis, leukemia, spastics, better nutrition and health education.

The Canadian Foundation for poliomyelitis, in a statement in reply to Dr. Bates and Dr. Brown, said 45 distinguished medical men are members of its advisory committee and that hundreds of victims already had been helped by the campaign.

Son Is Charged With Murder

HALIFAX, Jan. 9—(CP)—George H. Rumley, 30-year-old war veteran, yesterday was charged with murder in connection with the shooting death of his father at neighboring Dartmouth Saturday night.

Henry Edward Rumley, 58, died from a rifle blast through the heart. Preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 16.

Canada Steps Up Engine Production

Aviation Engine May Be Used to Power U.S. Planes

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Canada's first jet engine, the Orenda, has been approved for both new-type fighter planes of the RCAF and is being hastened into production.

This development ties in with a second acceleration of Canadian aircraft production disclosed by the government since the Korea war began. It also is related to the great shortage of aircraft engines which is one of the major bottlenecks confronting the Western world's preparedness.

The Orenda, sometimes called the West's most powerful aviation engine, was designed and developed in Canada for the CF-100 Canuck, the RCAF's long-range, all-weather, two-seater fighter.

The two were originally conceived in the early post-war era as a team that would be produced at a moderate rate and give Canada her first important standing in the fighter-production world.

But with Korea and with the engine shortage, the Orenda has been under test in California for potential use in the F-86, the U.S.-designed short-range fighter Canada is building for the RCAF as the complement of the Canuck.

SOME TIME YET

The word now is that the Orenda has proved satisfactory for the double role.

The F-86 Sabres American pilots have been flying in Korea are powered with an American-type engine. Whether the Orenda will come into use outside Canada remains to be seen, but its apparent capabilities plus the shortage makes this likely in time.

The engine, officials here say, has already passed into the early production stage at the A. V. Roe of Canada aircraft plant at Malton, Ont., near Toronto, but it will be months yet before its assembly-line types first begin rolling into general RCAF use.

The airframe construction for the two fighters has passed into the production stage, too, at Malton and at the Canadair plant near Montreal. A. V. Roe produces the Canuck, Canadair the Sabre.

PLAN STUDIED

It will probably be a year yet before they satisfy Canada's own needs and before the plants can tackle large orders for foreign users. One foreign request under consideration is Britain's bid for 300 to 400 Sabres for the RAF.

The production rates for both the fighters and the Orenda are secret. For Canada alone, hundreds of the planes are on order in 1951, but the eventual figure will be influenced by European and

B.C. Indians Ask Millions

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 9—(CP)—British Columbia Indians today asked the provincial government to settle a debt for millions of dollars for land acquired during the last 100 years.

Andy Paull, president of the Grand Council of North American Indian Brotherhood, told Attorney-General Gordon Wismer that the government owed money to the natives for approximately 348,000 square miles of land in the province. This land, he said, rightfully belonged to the Indians.

Mr. Paull, a former Vancouver lacrosse player and coach, asked the attorney-general to meet as soon as possible with B.C. Indians in council to discuss the question of the native title to lands.

He produced a copy of the proclamation of King George III issued in 1763 which ordered the crown to pay for any land acquired from Indians.

He told Mr. Wismer that even land on which the legislative buildings stood belonged rightfully to the Indians according to past treaties and orders-in-council.

Increase In Arms Seen As Important Move Here

REGINA, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Canada must not delay increasing her own military strength and "helping our allies to increase theirs," Veterans Affairs Minister Hugues Lapointe said last night.

He spoke to a dinner meeting of the United Service Institute, an organization composed of officers from three armed services.

"Greater military strength on the side of the free peoples of the world alone will be able to deter the aggressor," he said.

"However, we must guard against making commitments that exceed our present power to implement them. Our chief responsibility will continue to lie in the defence of the North Atlantic area.

"Yet we do not intend to overlook the importance of Asia. In my opinion, it would be dangerous in the extreme to assume that the countries of North America, along with the countries of Western Europe, could safely allow the whole of Asia to fall under Communist domination."

Already, Mr. Lapointe added, Canada's contribution in troops "is not insignificant—and we are prepared to increase it."

MUST BE READY

"But Canada will have to meet a critical and complex" situation with "strength and suppleness. We are going to have to pull in our belts and make sacrifices."

Mr. Lapointe, who for the last three months has been vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations, said Chinese intervention in Korea has shown that Soviet Russia is more willing to risk a third war than the free world previously believed.

Morinville Firemen Quell Garage Blaze

Volunteer firemen of Morinville saved a $15,000 modern garage on the main street from total destruction by fire last night after a one-hour battle with persistent flames between the walls of the building.

The fire caused several thousand dollars damage to the Morinville Garage, owned by Eubald Chevalier.

Breaking out at 10:15 p.m., it was finally controlled at 11:15 by 20 volunteer firemen under Chief Ray McDonald. The blaze began between the walls of the lubricating room and the adjoining room and threatened to engulf the whole building at one point.

The fire was first spotted by an employe working in the garage. He turned in the alarm, and the siren, mounted on top of the town hall, summoned the volunteer crew.

Morinville's new 500 - gallon pumper was used and volunteer trucks hauled additional water from a 1,500 gallon reservoir near the town hall.

DENSE SMOKE

Firemen worked in dense smoke to dampen the blaze. Several holes had to be chopped in the walls to reach flames between the partitions. No firemen were overcome by smoke.

At one time firemen thought the fire would spread to the attic of the 75 by 100-foot building, where two feet of shavings were spread out as insulation.

The boiler room of the garage was gutted, the lubricating room damaged and the main part of the

COLOR IS SECRET

Television Opens New Field In Microscopic Research

PRINCETON, N.J., Jan. 10.—(AP)—A television microscope, something new for seeing into the invisible world, was shown yesterday by the Radio Corporation of America.

The secret of the new microscope is use of television eyes, which see things invisible to unaided human eyes.

The new microscope is made by setting a television camera to look through an ordinary microscope. This gives on the television screen an enlargement of 15 to 20 times the size of the microscope view. But the enlargement is not the important thing.

The television camera uses electronic tubes which are the seeing eyes of the television set.

If the blue television eye is used, for example, it shows the microscope view mostly in blue shades.

But some parts of any object, even of a single molecule, stand out much more clearly in blue than any other color. The reason is that these parts absorb blue.

The same thing is done with a red television set, which then shows sharply those parts of an object which absorb red rays.

This microscope, in nearly a year's use at Princeton University, has revealed things never before seen while alive. These include granules (specks of living matter) in red blood corpuscles, which heretofore have had to be stained and killed before becoming visible. They include numerous other parts of living tissue cells.

The television eye has another advantage never before available. It sees by extremely weak light. The living tissue exposed under this mild light remains alive, unharmed and moving for hours. Heretofore the bright light needed at high magnification has after a time deadened or killed the tissues under observation.

The Princeton studies were reported by Dr. A. K. Parpart, chairman of the department of biology.

Salvation Army Colonel Dies

BROMLEY, Eng., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Alfred G. Cunningham, the Salvation Army colonel of Hugh Redwood's book "God in the Slums," died yesterday at her home.

Her husband was chief of staff and second in command of the International Salvation Army from 1939 to 1943. Her direction of the organization's relief effort during a London flood in January, 1928, inspired Redwood's novel.

Camrose No. 3 Firms Cautious Over Showing

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

Anglo-Canadian, Home Oil and C & E Corporation have found oil encouragement in the Viking sand in their Camrose No. 3 well, about 13 miles north-northeast of Socony Duhamel.

The well found the Viking at 3,179 feet. Top 40 feet to 3,219 was shale. Test 3,209 to 3,226 covering seven feet of sand, yielded 1,000,000 cubic feet with brown oily mud and 120 feet of oil cut mud. Duration of test was 25 minutes.

Test No. 2 of 3,226 to 3,232 on a 63 minute test, gave a rise of 2,140 feet of oil, 90 feet mud emulsion, 110 feet salt water.

Test No. 3 of 3,232 to 3,242 feet gave in one hour a very slight gas blow, 75 feet of oil cut mud, no water. Bottom was out of sand and in shale.

Whether the oil find will prove of commercial calibre is not yet known. Much depends on careful analyses of the cores and the thickness of the oil saturation in the sand.

Officials of Anglo were pleased with the showings Tuesday but were not making any predictions about commercial possibilities.

The discovery is rated as a stratigraphic trap, a type of accumulation defying evaluation except on almost a well-to-well basis. Officials were pleased at the lack of water on the last test.

The well has been scheduled as a test to the Devonian. Location is Lsd. 14-29-47-20 west 4th.

The three independents jointly have holdings totalling more than 35,000 acres in the Camrose area

A sharp increase in oil exploration and drilling activities for Alberta and Western Canada is predicted by N. G. Jannsen, drilling supplies manufacturer and drilling contractor, of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. Jannsen, in Calgary on a business visit, said the increased demand for oil, caused by intensified defence production in the U.S. and Canada, will be reflected in a vastly greater program of oil exploration inn Western Canada.

He also predicted that within seven years, Canada, which now imports more than half its crude oil, would become an oil exporter.

A pioneer oil driller, Mr. Jannsen's drilling and manufacturing company currently has 25 drilling rigs in operation in the United States.

More and larger oil refineries as well as a vast network of pipe lines was foreseen for Alberta and the prairie provinces by Mr. Jannsen.

Trans Empire Oils Ltd., amalgamation instrument for the four Cross companies, tasted its first oil Tuesday when a D-2 test of Trans Empire Phillips No. 1 in the South Calmar section of Leduc showed a rise of 2,020 feet at interval 5,422 to 5,428 feet. Gas hit the surface in a minute and a half, and there was no water.

Another 10-foot core was being taken Tuesday night and another test was to be run.

The well and the location adjoining to the east is shared 50-50 between Trans Empire and Phillips.

Trans Empire inserts all the assets and liabilities of all the Cross companies including several oil wells in Leduc. This is the first venture, however, for Trans Empire on its own. It is also a participant in Shawnee Pete No. 1 southeast of the Flint discovery.

ABOUT FUR COATS

Discussing furs and pelts on the sports page is as out-of-place as a serious approach to professional wrestling, although not quite.

But, anyhow, your reporter tramped through the wilds of 106 street and 103 avenue yesterday to view the 13th annual Alberta fox and mink pelt show in the Massey-Harris building. And I came up with encouraging news for the hunter who is a lousy marksman and can't talk the little woman out of a fur coat.

Even if you are the kind of shooter who can't hit a brick wall with a pail of buckshot, there is still hope. All you gotta do is raise a fur-bearing beast and separate it from its pelt when the bitter half wants a coat of animal skin.

HIGH PRICES

For example, if you want some chinchillas you ought to call at the Massey-Harris establishment today. That is, if you are armed properly in the wallet.

Pick up a pair of chinchillas for a paltry $1,000 and in 10 years you'll have enough for one coat, valued at $7,000.

While waiting for the chinchillas to mature you will have their friendship, which, they say, is boundless so long as the feed trough is full.

Myself, if I was in the market for a fur coat, I would have to lower my sights in accord with my bank book. Thus, I would buy a couple of chinchilla rabbits for $25—and, rabbits being rabbits, would have a fur coat in four months.

Only drawback to chinchilla rabbits is that they cannot be raised in the kitchen on account of they sometimes grow big enough to run in the Kentucky derby.

RATS PROFITABLE

There are other species of fauna which can be grown to provide the little woman with her winter habiliments. Some possibilities are the common cat, skunk (unfavored, of course), mink, fox and rat.

The raising of rats may become a profitable pastime in Alberta, if, as the entomologists say, our heretofore rat-free province becomes infested. I am thinking of doing this myself because it sounds like an easy method to make some extra clams: First, you skin the rats, then you skin the folks who invest their dollars in the pelt.

POLLY, THE PARROT

Speaking of rats, I recently made the acquaintance of a parrot named Polly, who lives with some people I know. She is a fine bird, splendidly dressed in a yellow and green ensemble and able to carry on a conversation in 17 dialects.

You can teach her to say anything, and she whistles better than most freight trains. I am convinced she is the greatest mimic since modern professional rassiers started acting unfriendly towards each other.

One day last fall I taught her the wolf whistle in two and a half easy lessons. She had it down pat by the time it came for her daily outing on the sidewalk.

But I'm still trying to figure out why that brown-eyed brunette walked up and gave me five fingers smartly across the cheek.

Candid Shots of Rasslin' Headliners

ANCIENT Earl McCready applies pressure to Al Mills' leg in main event of last night's rassling card. But it was to no avail. Mills won match when McCready was disqualified.

BALDING Tony Angelo gets his ears massaged by Gene Dubuque in semi-windup performance. Anthony was finally disqualified, being third rassler to lose in this fashion last night.

MURDER MILLS, advertised as Canadian champion, doesn't act like one here as McCready stretches him out on canvas. Pair grappled to draw last week, may be matched again.

Tragic End for McCready In Main Rasslin' Match

By Barney McKinley

You don't know how much you can suffer.

Unless you are a professional rassler, that is, and one of the star performers at the Tuesday dramas staged by impresario Al Oeming at Edmonton's Sales Pavilion.

Last night the dramatics were almost beyond belief as Earl McCready, ex-British Empire (champion) heavyweight rassler, lost out for the second straight week to Al (Mr. Murder) Mills, present Canadian heavyweight champion (Edmonton chapter).

The Earl of Amulet was the victim of a short count in the opinion of the fans. Referee Letty Pacer gave the bout to Mills when McCready failed to return to the ring in time after being tossed out by the Camrose murder man.

At this point Mills and the Earl each had a fall—McCready scoring with his famous rolling cradle—the fans' delight.

The other bouts ran true to form with a nice mixture of blood and anguish on the rasslin' bill of fare. There were also three disqualifications which showed a lack of imagination somewhere.

In the opener Terrible Tex Wilkins was ruled out of order by referee Tiger Goldstick. As a matter of fact, Tex took off for the showers under his own steam after dumping both his opponent, Butcher Boy Higgins, sometime referee, and the Tiger, on the mat.

First half of the semi-windup saw a bloody but unbowed Lou Sjoberg, the Duluth giant, awarded the verdict over nasty Frank Marconi.

The bad man was disqualified after he and Sjoberg had each taken a fall in their 45-minute, two-out-of-three falls bout.

Another vicious type, Tony (The Barefoot) Angelo was chased by the referee in the second half of the semis after he had made a fair job of choking beautiful Gene Dubuque on the ropes.

Prior to this horrific finale the two were all square with a fall each.

TOUCHDOWN CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

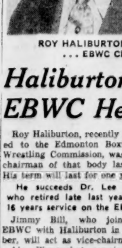

Edmonton Eskimos' Touchdown Club will hold its annual meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. All members are invited to attend.

Included on the agenda will be the election of officers for the Eskimo executive (five retire annually, although they may stand for re-election if they wish) and replacing of several vacant positions on the TC board of directors.

Eskimo treasurer Ken Montgomery will also give the financial statement for the 1950 season. Coach Annis Stukus and manager Al Anderson will address the meeting, outlining details of their recent scouting trips to eastern Canada and the United States.

Finney Hangs Tough In Scoring Race

Sid Finney, Calgary's sophomore hockey ace, is hanging close to leader Colin Kilburn's heels in the latest Western Canada Hockey league scoring statistics.

ROY HALIBURTON

Haliburton EBWC Head

Roy Haliburton, recently appointed to the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling Commission, was named chairman of that body last night. His term will last for one year.

He succeeds Dr. Lee Dodds, who retired late last year after 16 years service on the EBWC.

Jimmy Hill, who joined the EBWC with Haliburton in December, will act as vice-chairman.

Alex Wynnychuk remains secretary-treasurer pro tem. He will hold the job until a decision is made regarding the hiring of a permanent secretary to handle the large volume of EBWC correspondence and finances.

Next EBWC meeting will be held on Feb. 5.

Finney was credited with an assist as Stampeders drubbed the league-leading Edmonton Flyers 6-1 at the Gardens Monday night to raise his point total to 46.

However, he still has four points to go before he can catch up with Flyer winger Kilburn, who has maintained the scoring leadership most of the season.

Kilburn leads in the assist department with 27. Add 17 goals and the scrappy forward has totaled 44 points.

Alex Pringle, another Edmonton winger, leads in goals scored with 23.

Saskatoon's defenceman Larry Zeidel is still the most penalized player with 83 minutes. Kilburn, Pringle and Saskatoon's Howie Milford is third with 75 minutes.

Edmonton has displaced Saskatoon as the most penalized team, having spent 435 minutes in the penalty box compared with 427 minutes for Quakers who have played three games less. Calgary has been penalized a total of 332 minutes and Regina Caps 302.

Calgary's Russ Dertell is gaining on Ray Frederick of Edmonton in the goalkeeping averages. Frederick has allowed 110 goals in 37 games for a 2.972 goal average. Dertell's average is 3.166.

Varsity May Revive Football This Fall

By Dick Beddoes

Football may be revived at the University of Alberta this fall.

For tonight, at the regular weekly meeting of the Students' Council, Pete Lougheed will introduce a motion recommending that football be included on the university's 1951 athletic program.

Lougheed, a member of the Edmonton Eskimos for the past two seasons and a Varsity Golden Bear before that, is council secretary.

The gridiron sport was abandoned at the U of A in the fall of 1948. Reasons for doing so included a lack of competition and the feeling that money spent on football could be used to better advantage in fostering other sports.

However, the sentiment of the student body this year is that no single college pastime will foster campus spirit like the pigskin sport. Lougheed's plan, briefly, would call for a revival of the annual Hardy Cup series with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and possible games with small universities in Montana.

Said Lougheed last night: "I think the students would favor a return to football. However, approval must first be given by council and the University Athletic Board."

The UAB, headed by vice-chairman Jim Dockery, is understood to favor the scheme. Dr. Maury Van Vliet, director of physical education at the U of A and Golden Bear coach in the immediate post-war years, has remained silent on the subject.

LETHBRIDGE SUFFERS WORST LOSS TO DATE

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Earl's Court Rangers last night handed Lethbridge Maple Leafs a 5-1 beating—the fourth and worst set-back suffered in six exhibition appearances in Britain by Canada's entry for the world hockey championship.

Buck Kavanaugh of Kimberley, B.C., notched three goals for Earl's Court, consistently out-skating and outmaneuvering the visitors.

Leafs, appearing leg-weary in their fourth game in five nights, were sloppy in clearing around their own nets, and missed several chances at the Earl Court goal.

Eaton Cup Nears Finish

When the fussin' and firin' dies in the 1951 renewal of Eaton Cup play for inter-club curling supremacy in the city, a new champion is almost certain to rule the roost.

For the defending champion Edmontons have collapsed like the United Nations defences in some sectors of Korea. On two nights' play they have only managed eight wins in 32 games for a slim percentage of .250 and last place in the five-club race.

A couple of so-called lesser lights—Alberta Avenue and Thistle—are locked up closer than your next breath for the lead. In 24 games, the Avenue and Thistle shotmakers have compiled identical 15-9 records for a .621 batting average.

Granite curlers, leaders after the first day's play, have dropped to third and the Royal ranks fourth with 20 wins and 20 losses.

Following is the standing and the results of games played yesterday:

The People Write . . .

Mrs. R. G. Cutler, 12005-90 street, City: Was very disappointed in seeing the picture of the Bulletin's Miss 1951 on the Sports page Saturday with the wrong information printed under it.

"Mrs. Desrosiers was not in charge of the Eskimo football majorettes, as stated. There wasn't anyone in charge of the majorettes as the girls got together and organized their group.

"If any credit is to be given (I believe it should) Miss Barbara Pearce, one of the majorettes, should certainly be mentioned for undertaking the training of the two small majorettes, Donna and Dianne Cutler."

Comment: Have checked into this one to confirm that Mrs. Desrosiers was unofficially in charge. At the same time everyone connected with the majorettes, including Mrs. Desrosiers, agrees that Barbara Pearce did a great job with the Cutler youngsters.

Tom Browne, 1036-Haro Street, Vancouver, B.C. (who encloses a clipping from a coast paper debating (again) the relative class of the Pacific Coast and Western Hockey leagues):

"Got a kick out of this item 'Vancouver Canucks would chase the Flyers clear back to Alberta') The way Flyers have been going against Calgary their last six games, it looks as if they might have something there.

" . . . It has always been my belief that Flyers could take these Coast clubs. However this year the brand of hockey played in this league is a superior brand to former years."

Comment: Our most recent look at a Coast league team was in October, when Flyers twice downed Portland at the Gardens and took only a couple of deep breaths while giving the Oregonians their lumps.

What's more a study of the rosters of the PCHL teams discloses that practically all list the names of players who were 'nothing' while performing in the Western Canada loop.

We think the poorest club in the WCHL in any season would tear the Coast league apart.

Bill Badger, 11612-87 street, City: "Why doesn't Al Pickard, president of the Western Canada Hockey league do something about these players who go around deliberately injuring key men?

"I see every Flyer home game but I think I will stop going as there will not be enough Flyers to ice a team.

"The referees don't clamp down on the rough stuff enough and it just builds up until somebody explodes and the game turns into a brawl."

Comment: Obviously reader Badger has reference to the Doug Anderson injury, resulting from being charged heavily by Calgary's Julian Sawchuk.

In this case there's only one explanation for Mr. Pickard not cracking down: the referees must have whitewashed the Stamp defenceman of any intent to injure in their report to the league.

As for the referees "not clamping down", what would happen if they did, the way hockey is played today? Many a game would be spoiled for the fans by the sight of two teams playing shorthanded practically the whole 60 minutes.

P.S. Mr. Badger, are you related to Steve Badger, the onetime Drumheller Miner star?

Alva Steffes, 123 West Highland Drive, Seattle: "I am enclosing a sheet from the Seattle Times on Ted Tappe and Heinrich (All-American footballer from Washington State).

"Ted is going to University of Washington. He was on a T-V show here the other Sunday."

Comment: Alva Steffes long has been recognized as Morinville's No. 1 sports fan. This still goes, even if he has taken to spending considerable time in Seattle of late.

For those who may have forgotten, Ted Tappe is the big fellow who played first-base for the Eskimos here in '49. He finished up last season with Cincinnati Reds, after crashing the majors by slamming a pinch-hit homer his first time at bat.

Trial Adjourned In Combine Case Against Bakers

CALGARY, Jan. 9—(CP)—Decision was reserved today on the admissibility as evidence of documents seized by RCMP before a combine charge was laid against six western baking concerns.

Mr. Justice Boyd McBride said the objection raised by defence counsel "is of substantial importance and may have a material effect during the trial in regard to the admittance of documents." His Lordship then adjourned court until Wednesday.

The six firms charged with conspiring to lessen competition in the baking industry are: McGavin's Bakeries, Ltd., Winnipeg; McGavin's Bakeries, Ltd., Edmonton; McGavin's Bakeries, Ltd., Vancouver; Canadian Bakeries Ltd., Weston's Bread and Cake (Canada) Ltd., and Edmonton City Baking.

Jim Konstanty Athlete of Year

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Jan. 10—(AP)—Jim Konstanty, the Phillies bespectacled relief ace, beamed yesterday when told he had been voted 1950's male athlete of the year in the Associated Press poll.

"That's the biggest award I ever got," he said. "It's a wonderful thing. Gee, what will I have left to shoot at next year?"

The 33-year-old pitcher won on a close vote of the sports writers and sports broadcasters of the United States. Almost 100 athletes were mentioned. He was the sixth baseball personality to win the poll since it was started in 1931.

AT NIPAWIN 'SPIEL

Round Robin Half Complete

NIPAWIN, Sask., Jan. 10—(CP)Five rinks from Manitoba, two from Saskatchewan and one from Alberta had qualified so far yesterday for the eight of the 16 places open in the battle of the automobiles at Nipawin's bonspiel.

Four rinks joined the charmed circle on morning and afternoon play with the highlight Jimmy Welsh's defeat in 13 ends by Garnet Campbell of Avonlea, Sask.

It was the second 13-ender loss for the former Dominion champ from Winnipeg and by the same score—a tight 10-9.

McTAVISH RECUPERATES

The Campbell Brothers were the first in No. 2 event to qualify but were followed by W. G. Taylor, Rivers, Man., W. Duncan, Virden, Man., and Lawrence Borreson, Antler, Sask.

Already qualified in No. 1 group were Winnipeg skips Howard Wood, Grant Watson and Leo Johnson. E. B. (Ole) Olson of Edmonton was the fourth.

Knocked into No. 3 play along with Welsh were S. Schmidt of Arborfield, Sask., who lost 7-5 to Taylor; E. E. Gerrand, Regina, who lost 9-8 to Duncan; and O. Fenrick, Choiceland, Sask., who lost 11-9 to Borreson.

Welsh's battle with the Curling Campbells appeared won after he took an early lead and was three-up coming home. But his support faltered and Campbell tied the count. On the extra end, Welsh missed a difficult take-out shot on last rock, nicking the Campbell guard and skidding past the shot stone.

Bill McTavish of Winnipeg, knocked into the third event Monday by losing two games, yesterday won his first match in that event by defeating R. Lavoy, Choiceland, 11-5.

WOLFE ALIVE

Main interest in the No. 3 games centred in the return battle between McTavish and E. W. Gerrand of Regina which this time saw the Winnipeg rink gain revenge for the Reginans victory Monday night. McTavish won 8-7.

Welsh made a good start in the No. 3 event by defeating G. Gloeden of Middle Lake, Sask., 10-8.

Frank Wolfe of Edmonton also posted a victory in the third division—downing Schmit, 10-8.

Bill Childs was shunted down to No. 4 event when he lost 11-8 to G Ortloff of Prince Albert.

Bellevue Blanks McKernan Lake

Bellevue had things much their own way last night as they shut out McKernan Lake 8-0 in a Community Bantam Hockey league game played at Bellevue.

Helgeson paced the winners with a "hat-trick" while Majeau accounted for a pair of markers. Other goals were scored by Field, Chizawsky and Demchuk.

Oliver Whips Boyle Street

Oliver thumped Boyle Street 6-3 in a Community Midget Hockey league game last night.

Leach, Heffick, Curtiss, Slutker, Pears and Fitzgerald fired markers for the winners while Cummings, with two, and Bourial scored for the Streeters.

AKRON, O.—(UP)—Dan Buccroni, 178, Philadelphia, knocked out Jimmy Bell, 183, Washington, D.C., (1).

Wings Protect NHL Lead As Hawks Again Winless

DETROIT, Jan. 10—(CP)—Detroit Red Wings protected their National Hockey league lead as they held the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-3 tie here last night in a game that started fast and wound up in dull fashion.

Meanwhile, Boston Bruins took over third place in the league as they defeated the cellar-occupying Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 in Chicago before a crowd of 8,108.

The lead changed hands three times in the first two periods in the Detroit-Toronto tilt before both teams switched to a close-checking, careful type of play.

Eight penalties enlivened the first period, but the tempo slowed as there were only two in the second and none in the final stanza.

Four of the six tallies came while the teams were short-handed.

Dan Lewicki was high scorer for the night, slamming home a pair of goals with the Leafs' Max Bentley getting assists on each.

The veteran Milt Schmidt scored two goals for the victorious Bruins. The second of the see-saw game came in the third period and was the clincher.

The Hawks led three times.

Schmidt's climactic goal came at 15:56 of the third.

The Hawks now have gone 11 games without a victory.

RAY ROBINSON HONORED BY SPORTS WRITERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson last night received the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque at the annual dinner of the New York Boxing Writers' Association.

The welterweight champion, recently returned from a successful European tour where he won five fights, was honored as the man who did the most for the uplift and advancement of the sport during the preceding year.

McAuley's Leafs Roll To Eighth Conquest

Coach Ken McAuley's front-running Maple Leafs continue their merry stroll in Juvenile Hockey league play.

Leaf scoring was evenly divided with defenceman Bill Bucyk and Orville Burchby and forwards Roger Lapiante, Ron Donnelly, Gerry Melnyk, Jerry Karpinka and Bill Grocholski clicking for singletons.

Centre Cleve Foulds and defenceman Dick Hjelm scored for Canadians.

Game marked the appearance of blond Bob Sangster in the Canadian nets. Sangster was with Canadian juniors last season, playing in the Northern Alberta Junior Hockey League.

Game was cleanly played with only five penalties—four to Leafs—being handed out.

Second half of last night's double-header was cancelled and will be played tonight at 119 street rink, starting at 8:30, with second place EAC meeting South Side.

Cloverdale Out Of Commercial Loop

Cloverdale has been ousted from the Commercial Hockey league it was announced last night by director Fred Morie after a meeting held in the Recreation Commission building.

A majority vote of the league representatives decided to oust the Cloverdale entry.

Reasons given were ". . . for not meeting their obligations to the league and for not co-operating by their absence from meetings.

"Also for not being willing to assist the league in naming three players for the all stars—but acting on their own, without the league's sanction and entering a team in provincial Intermediate 'B' playdowns."

CHL will choose the All-star team from an all-star game to be played at the Gardens later in the week. The all-star team will compete in provincial Intermediate 'B' playdowns.

Doug Hardy, former Flyer trainer, and John Dave have been named to coach the "A" and "B" section all-stars respectively.

FLYERS PLAY CAPS IN REGINA TONIGHT

Edmonton's slumping Flyers left the city last night, headed for Regina where they will engage the last place Caps in Western Canada Hockey league game tonight.

It will be Flyers' last road trip until they leave for a 'vacation' in Jasper next week.

Flyers, who boasted a hefty lead atop the league earlier in the season, will be out to increase their lead over Calgary Stampeders to five points.

The Price of Beer

Friend of mine who hardly ever takes a drink, (you can't force one on him on Feb. 29) is on the warpath against discrimination in the local taproome.

My friend took out a well-sharpened pencil and proved to me that the working man is being done wrong in the matter of beverage made from hops.

He says that when the beverage room keepers cut the standard beer glass from seven to six ounces that represented a price increase of 14 per cent.

Then my mathematical friend added another nine per cent for the collar, (just plain froth), making the hike 14.29 per cent.

Now the pub operators also hiked the price of bottled beer from 25 to 26 cents per bottle.

Again the deadly statistician went work. Increase in the bottled beverage is just four per cent.

So there folks you have the makings of a revolution or something.

The guy who has what it takes pays just four percent more for his beer. The guy who hasn't many dimes to toss away pays 14.29 per cent more for each one he can afford to hoist.

I'm blowing "Fall In" for South African War veterans today.

Bill Ireland asked me to sound the call. Bill, who is president of the South African War Veterans' Association in Northern Alberta, wants to get in touch with South African vets who don't belong to the association.

Bill says there are quite a few of these stout-hearted lads around who don't know about the association.

Any such who read this item should give Bill a call at 24944.

There are about 120 active members in this northern area, 64 of them living in Edmonton.

So soldiers of the Queen, give Bill a jingle on the telephone. Nothing like swapping yarns about those distant days at Spion Kop, Ladysmith and Modder River.

Of course not many Edmonton Old Boys sweated it out under Principal Hamilton but the old school ties are pretty strong, just the same.

The head from Canada's famed private seat of learning in St. Catherines will be in Edmonton for two days next month.

Members of the Old Boys' Association here are going to give the head a big welcome.

I received this information from Old Boy Jack Dinning.

Jerry Wilmot, Edmonton lumber man, is president of association here.

Bridge Plays Hide-Seek Game in Morning Fog

WHEN MISTS have rolled away down yonder in early morning sun, twin spans of low level bridge will stand out clear and sharp in picturesque Saskatchewan valley. Bulletin staff photographer Eric Bland snapped this typical morning view of fog-wrapped bridge and valley from vantage point atop McDougall hill. Valley fog is typical of early mornings in winter months.

High CNR Officials Pay Tribute to J. F. Cooper

John F. Cooper, former general superintendent of the Alberta district, Canadian National Railways and now general manager of the Northern Alberta Railways, was honored at a dinner and presentation Tuesday evening in the Macdonald hotel.

The dinner was held as a tribute to Mr. Cooper for his many years service with the CNR and on his new appointment. Mr. Cooper joined the railway staff in 1907 and rose from ranks as Alberta district superintendent, a post which he held since 1946. He took over his new duties Jan. 1.

Seventy-five Alberta district and division officers and supervisors of the CNR were in attendance as well as representatives from Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Presentation of a two-piece matched luggage set was made to the honored guest by H. L. Robin, Alberta district engineer, on behalf of those assembled.

Tributes were paid Mr. Cooper by J. R. McMillan, vice-president, western area, CNR; R. Kerron, general manager, western region, both of Winnipeg, and G. R. Graham, general superintendent succeeding Mr. Cooper.

Also at the head table were E. G. Skelding, superintendent of transportation and W. Alexander, superintendent of motive power and car equipment, both of the Alberta district.

A short reply was given by Mr. Cooper on his own behalf and for Mrs. Cooper who was sent a token gift from the CNR officials.

$40,000 Fire

LETHBRIDGE, Jan. 10.—(CP)—A $40,000 fire of unknown origin yesterday destroyed seven automobiles, a quantity of stock and accessories at Smith Motors used car lot.

The accident rate in mining operations in Ontario has shown a marked decline in the past 24 years.

NWT Told To Arrange Own Defence

Settlements in the Northwest Territories will be responsible for arrangement of their own civil defence and blackout precautions in case of enemy air attack.

According to Col. W. J. McCallum, speaking for General Worthington, co-ordinator of civil defence in Ottawa, northern posts have been told they should be prepared to cope with any disaster caused by fire, sabotage or enemy action.

The posts were also warned to prepare for blackout measures so that settlement light could not be a guide for enemy aircraft.

Requirements for civil defence in the Northwest Territories were outlined to the Territorial Council meeting in Ottawa.

Advice Sought On Sewer-Water Installation

Provincial government advice on Jasper Place proposed sewer and water installations was sought yesterday by a delegation from the town, headed by Mayor J. M. Stone.

The delegation discussed plans with Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs.

The water and sewer installation project will have an initial cost of about $1,000,000.

ACCUSED COMMITTED IN $8,625 THEFT CASE

A man charged with stealing $4,625 from a visitor to the city from Aklavik on Dec. 23 was committed to Supreme Court trial by Magistrate S. G. Main at a preliminary trial held in police court Tuesday.

Roger J. H. Houle pleaded not guilty to stealing the money from Simon Munro Petter of Aklavik during a party at a city home.

Petter told the court he attended a party at a home on 101 street late for Houle.

Dec. 23 where Houle and others were guests. During the evening Petter said he left his coat, containing the money, on a hassock in the living room.

Checking his coat later, he discovered his wallet missing.

The money was made up of $1,000 cash, three cheques valued at $3,500 and $125 in war savings bonds.

Neil D. Maclean, KC, appeared for Houle.

City School Construction Is Affected by Steel Shortage

The steel shortage has affected the construction of three public schools here.

W. W. Butchart, public school board architect, told board members last night that floor plans of McKernan, Strathearn and Westminster schools would have to be changed because of a shortage of steel.

Floors will be redesigned so clay tile fillers can be used.

RISING COSTS

The board also voted $7,000 more on the Victoria Composite High School to meet rising costs of labor and materials. The additional costs came under the escalator clause for the second unit of the building.

A total of $5,009 for material and wage increases during past years will be paid to Contractors Christenson and Macdonald.

Material price boosts from March, 1949, to October, 1950, amounted to $2,897, and wage increases, from April, 1950, to November, 1950, were $2,930.

Total amount of wage and material increases under the escalator clause to date now stand at $12,673. Of this, $8,620 was for wage hikes.

Total amount contract of the school is estimated at $3,320,900.

OTHER SPENDING

The board spent approximately $158,000 on the construction of four city schools and additions to three others during the month of November, it was revealed.

Of this amount, $147,000 was spent on construction at Hazeldean, Montrose, Mount Royal and Victoria Composite schools. Remainder was used for additions to Calder, Delton and King Edward Park schools.

The total amount of the contract for construction and additions of the seven schools is $4,476,000.

In his report, Mr. Turner also pointed out that approximately $5,428,000 would be spent on the construction of 11 other schools in the city which have already been authorized.

These are Belgravia, East End High, Lauderdale, McKernan, Parkallen, Queen Mary Park, Strathcona Composite High, Strathearn, Westminster, Windsor Park, and an addition to Spruce Avenue.

Tenders for the construction of McKernan, Westminster, Parkallen and Strathearn schools will be called for on Jan. 22.

Talent Search Concert Moves To Bon Accord

This week's search for talent spotlight is focussed on Bon Accord, with local aspirants being groomed for the search for talent concert to be held at the community hall Saturday.

The Bon Accord visit will be the finish in the 1950-51 series of search for Talent shows sponsored by the Associated Canadian Travellers, Edmonton Club, and radio station CFRN.

Last week a capacity audience greeted the show people at Calmar.

TRUANCY INCREASES AMONG CITY PUPILS

Edmonton public school students played more "hookey" in 1950 than they did in 1949.

Year-end figures show that last year 690 were reported absent from schools throughout the year, as compared with 577 during 1949.

Of last year's figures, 194 were reported truant, compared to 175 in 1949.

New Lutheran Church Parsonage Is Dedicated

Rev. Don C. Preisinger, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, 97 street and 74 avenue, is getting settled in his new parsonage.

The parsonage was dedicated at a special service on Sunday, addressed by Rev. C. L. Kliewer, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church.

"A house warming" for the pastor of Redeemer Lutheran and his family was held following the dedication service. A gift lamp from the congregation was presented by chairman I. Maxwell.

VOLUNTEERS

New parsonage, valued at $14,000, was built mainly through the congregation's volunteer labor during the past year.

It is located on a 66-foot lot adjoining the church and includes a church office and study as well as basement quarters for the "Lutheran Hour" radio program.

General work of the radio program for Western Canada will be carried on.

Plans call for the sale of a small house used by the pastor during the time the new parsonage was being built. It will be moved in the spring.

3,447 Defects Found In Pupils

School doctors during 1950 made a total of 10,778 inspections in city public schools.

In a report to the Edmonton Public School Board last night, Medical Inspector of Schools, H. M. Hayes, M.D., M.R.C.P., told board members that of those inspected, 3,447 were reported to have defects.

Library Meeting

The January meeting of the Edmonton Public Library Board will be held in the board room of the Library at 5:15 p.m. on Jan. 15.

HEROIC DOG

Pekinese Credited With Saving 2 Lives in Fire

ROCHFORT BRIDGE, Alta., Jan. 10.—A small Pekinese dog was credited with saving the lives of two persons here Sunday as roaring flames totally destroyed a business firm and the town post office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oakes escaped from the blazing living quarters at the rear of the Rochfort Pool Room and Confectionery after the dog had awakened them by barking and tugging at the bed covers.

The two made their escape from the building seconds before it became enveloped in flames.

Apparently under the impression Oakes was still in the building, the Pekinese later ran back into the flames. He was coaxed out by Oakes' whistle at the door, just as the walls and roof of the store crashed into fiery ruin.

Fire chief N. W. Smith, postmaster Robert Trimble, and an RCMP constable risked injury to carry the mail from the doomed post office next door to the building where the fire broke out.

They were able to save the contents of the post office, but the premises were totally destroyed by the fast moving fire.

Equipment from Mayerthorpe and Sangudo and volunteers from the two neighboring towns aided in the fight to keep the fire from spreading to other homes and businesses.

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Text Book Purchases Approved

Members of the Public School Board last night also:

Approved plans for the purchase of text and supplementary books for the year.

Agreed upon the rental of Victoria Composite High school auditorium to the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society on Feb. 3 for five hours.

Appointed to their regular staff, Harold Zavitz, as electrician at Victoria Composite; R. A. Lang, as locksmith, same school, K. Plante, as Board's truck driver; Miss Jeanne Wynyeuck and Miss Gloria Bawus, stenographers.

Seal Campaign To Be Studied At ATA Meeting

Directors of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association will hold their quarterly meeting in Edmonton Jan. 13 and 14.

T. A. Shandro, honorary secretary, said progress of the Christmas seal campaign will be closely studied at the meeting, since the surplus over the regular budget of the association is ear-marked for X-ray equipment in hospitals to provide routine chest X-rays for all patients.

Provincial Seal sale receipts now total $143,000, still $27,000 short of the objective. This amount is almost exactly the amount needed over and above the budget, for hospital X-rays.

New Companies Incorporated In Alberta

AMA Asks Drive On Car Thieves

Members Say 'Things Are Getting Grim'

A wave of car thefts in Edmonton, mostly by juveniles, brought a demand yesterday from the Alberta Motor Association for stiffer penalties for the thieves.

At an executive meeting of the Edmonton branch of the AMA yesterday, members were told numbers of cars stolen often reach 10 and 15 a night.

"The situation is getting grim. Something has got to be done about it," stated J. D. MacDonald, mover of the motion asking for stiffer penalties.

ACTION PROMISED

Commenting on the situation, acting mayor William Hawrelak stated a report will be made by Chief Constable Reginald Jennings.

"There is no doubt measures will have to be taken to stop this," he stated.

He declined further comment until receipt of the chief constable's report.

Cars were stolen at the average of two a night last year, a police spokesman stated, up 100 per cent over the previous year.

"Car stealing is not limited to any specific sections of the city," he said. "There are lots of youngsters from the so-called 'better homes' out stealing cars like the rest of them."

Thefts are frequent in the best residential districts in the city, he stated.

DETERRENT SOUGHT

"Sending them to jail doesn't seem to deter the others," the spokesman stated. "The other day we sent two of them away for two years, but the same night we had several cars stolen."

Most of the cars are stolen for joy riding, often with girl friends, he said. Occasionally, they are used for more serious criminal purposes such as breaking and entering. Most of the cars are recovered abandoned in the city. Some young thieves, however, have been picked up in Calgary, British Columbia and Montana.

Lacking juvenile detention facilities most juvenile car thieves have been given suspended sentences by court authorities.

"It's hard to know the proper course but something has got to be done," said Howard Stutchbury, chairman of the Edmonton Safety Council and member of the executive of the Edmonton branch of the AMA. "I've had my car stolen six times."

JOYRIDERS

Chief Constable Reg. Jennings commented the car stealing wave has continued in spite of police apprehension of seven joyriders in the past week.

"You'd think that would stop them but four cars were stolen the night before last," he added.

"All members of the force have been alerted to keep a special lookout for stolen cars."

Problem of spotting the cars is often made difficult because licence plates are switched in the best gangland manner.

Police say 90 per cent of the car thefts in Edmonton are of one single make of car. Ignition wires can be more easily crossed in these models, they explained.

AMA Branch Membership Up to 27,524

Membership in the Edmonton branch of Alberta Motor Association has risen to 27,524, members of the AMA were told yesterday.

Of this total, 14,880 are regular members and 12,644 are associate members.

Members of the executive voted to send a delegation to Red Deer to match a similar delegation from Calgary.

It will meet with the Red Deer board of trade, which has been pressing strongly for the new branch.

The board also voted to send a letter to the municipal district of Stony Plain, drawing attention to a dangerous approach to the Jasper highway a mile west of Winterburn. Several accidents have occurred because of steep grade and lack of visibility, members were told.

Maj.-Gen. Penhale Going West On Farewell Tour

Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, officer commanding Western Army Command, who will retire the end of January, left here this morning for all farewell tour of military installations at Victoria and the west coast.

He will be accompanied by his assistant, Lt. D. R. Brodie; Lt.-Col. Scott Murdoch, assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general; and Major A. M. Stirton, public relations officer, Western Army Command.

The group will visit military posts at the coast and make a tour of the Royal Canadian School of Artillery at Victoria.

11-Months Surplus Up For Five City Utilities

Although November profits from Edmonton's five civic utilities were down 20 per cent from October, the 11-months surplus showed a 20 per cent increase over the same period of 1949.

In a statement released by City Commissioner Fred Ockenden, November profits are shown at $74,024, compared with an October surplus of $92,436.

Total profits for the 11 months this year were $1,274,182, against $1,063,191 in the same period a year ago.

MORE TAXES PAID

Taxes paid by the five utilities totalled $952,648, compared with $883,521 to Nov. 30, 1949.

Only Edmonton Transit System showed a November deficit, with a $48,165 loss, against $5,902 loss in November of 1949.

Electric light department showed a $36,636 profit, the power plant $75,635, telephone system $15,923, and waterworks $1,992.

Bill telephone and waterworks were only civic departments with no capital funds on hand at Nov. 30. They had a $245,667 and $284,945 deficit in capital funds respectively.

Electric light department had $262,809 capital funds on hand, power plant $281,166 and transit system $355,219.

Frozen Lemonade Added to Juice Gems

By Bea Thrifty

Big-business-minded urchins who pride themselves on their summer lemonade vending will clap their fat little hands with glee at news of new frozen concentrate of the refreshing beverage.

Seems concentrated orange juice, fresh-frozen, went over with such a bang that the idea was moved into the lemon orchard too.

Now frozen concentrated lemonade is selling at 20c per tin.

For the likes o' you 'n me who like a tangy nip of icy fruit juice as an afternoon refresher . . . it's a goody indeed.

More in the fresh frozen food locker brings the chatter around to newies such as asparagus tips at 72c (ouch) . . . and cauliflower at 35c . . . broccoli at 35c and brussell sprouts at 36c . . . per package.

Of course wax and green beans are available as are green peppers, assorted other fruits and vegetables, ready-to-fry chicken and fish fillets.

Broccoli, cauliflower and brussel sprouts are available in fresh produce in local shops . . . but prices don't vary much from the frozen jobs . . . and there's the cleaning and preparation that makes a difference to the time element.

Calves liver sells for the scandalous price of 90c per pound in many a local shop . . . and that's a lot of pennies for the tastiest of liver.

Once upon a time a dime could buy enough liver for at least two generous servings . . . now alas . . 'tis a luxury dish.

Newie on the tinned quickie-dinner roster is a Spanish rice dish containing tomato paste, green and red peppers, seasoning, long-grain rice and a smidgin of meat sauce . . . and all for 21c my girl.

I'm pretty partial to Spanish rice as it comes from my own skillet . . . but I'm a gonna try this tinned affair just to see if there's time 'n effort to be saved.

Soup shelf is the handiest, dandiest part of my pantry . . . and especially when casserole economy time rolls 'round.

You can tastefully disguise more leftovers with blessings of a reliable soup-sauce . . . just try it and see.

A favorite of mine for a foursome family is a combination of small tin of tuna fish (27c), one tin cream mushroom soup (17c) crushed potato chips and seasoning.

Add fish to mushroom soup, add chopped peppers, celery, onion if you happen to feel inclined and top the works with the crushed potato chips. A dot of butter and a moderate oven for twenty minutes or so . . . and it's a dinner dish delight.

WISHFUL THINKING has placed many young girls in Actress Marguerite Chapman's shoes—but have they considered the hard work involved in becoming a Hollywood actress.

Scientific Method May Help Solve Any of Your Problems

By Josephine Lowman

A few days ago I was talking with a research scientist.

He was telling me about the scientific method of investigation used in solving many problems. This fascinated me because it was immediately apparent that the same method can be applied to solving troublesome human relationships and the habit of worry.

In the first place one must have a viewpoint. The viewpoint you have greatly affects the results you obtain. From the very first you must strive to weed out wishful thinking.

Next you must recognize that there is a problem and find out what it is. This was especially interesting because I believe that so many individuals go through life feeling frustrated constantly irritable and ruffled, vaguely unhappy and harassed and do not know why.

If you feel this way you should admit to yourself that you have a problem and determine just what it is; what is causing this unease or chronic worry.

You must establish one or more beliefs which you think are true and upon which you will build your decision.

So many unhappy situations could be solved if we had the courage to admit the problem and then do something about it.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Neat, Intelligent, Cheery Girls Rate Most Dates

DEAR MISS DIX: Will you please list a few "do's" and "don't's" about how to make boys like you.

There are many of us who would appreciate this very much.

CATHERINE.

ANSWER: Well, here are a few "do's" that may help you to make a hit with the boys. Make yourself as attractive looking as you can. Study your good points and make the best of them.

In buying your clothes get things that enhance your good looks instead of getting a hat or dress that makes you look like a figure of fun because it is fashionable.

Always look neat. Men prefer cleanliness to style. Keep your nails immaculate and your hair washed.

Don't use too much make-up. Don't put on so much lipstick that your mouth looks as unappetizing as a raw slice of butcher's meat. Don't wear long nails. Don't overdress.

Tobe on Fashion—

Silk Shantung Dominates Dress Fashions This Spring

Certainly if I were asked to pick out the most important fabric for dresses this Spring, I'd answer "silk shantung" without even thinking twice. Or perhaps I should qualify it and say "the shantung family"—so that shantung taffeta, the various Honans, pongee, silk linen, the new tissue shantungs, et cetera, may be included.

Now I now that many of you still think of shantung as a Summer fabric only. Instead, because of all its handsome variations, it is being used the year round.

So you can, and should, start off right now with a shantung dress or suit or ensemble—in a real Spring color, navy, black, toast or gray. And you do not need a trip south to wear it either!

Do You Know?

A good trick to remember when you're sewing buttonholes in filmsy material: first rub a little library paste on the wrong side of the fabric. Makes for easier handling and helps you keep a grip on the filmy stuff.

Stacking Linen Follows Pattern

Those fine linens will wear longer if you take a little extra trouble with the closet once a week.

It's tempting to stack the freshly folded laundry on the top of each pile. But a towel manufacturer points out that rotation of the piles makes for longer wear.

If you pull up a chair or table to the linen closet and stack the finished laundry on it, the job will be easier. That way you don't have to deal sheets and pillow cases off your arm.

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some arbitrary influences. Be on safe side and use tact, astuteness; be careful of taste. Financial matters likely to suffer if you are not careful in details.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Likely to think you can handle everything okay, even without much study or preparation. Not now, folks, you will need common sense and knowledge. Go slow but sure.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—A day that may try your patience, may upset best of plans. Be sure to recognize and separate essentials from nonessentials. May meet some criticism. Lead gracefully.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—The "powers" can be handled if you use diplomacy, are pleasantly cooperative. Do some research before you attempt day's problems. Late hours, brighter aspects; an easing up.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—On guard; past faux pas may conflict with progress if you permit. Create, improve upon. Play up your assets AND your talents. Use lessons taught as examples.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Run daily routine like a business; trim out deadwood before starting. Get maximum results from all expended energy. This gives creative power for future. Good news soon.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Better chance of achievement if you approach problems more casually, without force. Be careful about acquaintances, the easy-go-lucky type, can play havoc with your resolutions.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Possibilities far-reaching. Have true confidence in your ability, deal with matters with ease as they appear. Don't mind what others think so long as you know you are doing right.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Heart interests, family, worthwhile social activities are sharing the upper hand today. Ideal aspects for marriage, purposeful friendly gatherings, children's causes.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Take precaution not to reach beyond your capacity. Do not seek what may not be good for you. Be moderate, appreciate what you have, no matter how small.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Push business and important personal affairs. Arrange your day to get maximum results. Concentrate on observing, not missing the finer points. You can do much when you try.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Your loved one, a close friend, may have influence on day's results. How you react to all things is important. Seek advice as aid to realization of hopes and ambitions.

YOU BORN TODAY: are of thoughtful, serious nature, at times overpractical; may be frugal with those you really don't mean to be. You have many fine traits and if you seek higher education and religion and avoid questionable companions you can make almost any mark in life you wish. You meet obstacles but don't readily give up key—you can conquer despite many odds. Could be excellent builder, stock raiser, merchant, executive, statesman, or a fine mechanic. Aim high, keep your faith; pray. Birthdate: Alexander Hamilton, American statesman, economist; Ann Sothern, American philosopher, Eva LeGallienne, actress.

League's Service Project Graduates to Community

Junior Hospital League-sponsored Emergency Housekeeper Service has graduated to status of a major welfare operation and a member of Community Cheat Services.

This was announced last night at the children's room of the Edmonton Public Library.

Mrs. Allan Lobsinger, for five years committee head of the Housekeeper Service, told of development of the project started with brave inexperience and the hope of helping needy families.

Working in co-operation with the Family Service Bureau, league members have staffed and maintained the Emergency Housekeeper Service since its initial venture in 1945.

CONTINUED HELP

Mrs. Lobsinger said the league would continue to assist the service materially, although management would fall to Community Cheat.

Service was established to provide a capable, dependable housekeeper in times of family emergencies. In many cases league absorbed total costs, and in all cases part of the cost.

President Mrs. John McMullen thanked Mrs. Lobsinger and her committee for their untiring efforts on behalf of the service.

Reports were given by committee conveners.

HOSPITAL WORK

Mrs. J. E. Hart told of hospital work completed and planned. Members will furnish a playroom for children in the new wing of the University Hospital. They will continue to pay and sponsor a full-time teacher for crippled children at the hospital.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Child's Privilege To Know Reason for Demand

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It may be just habit for a child to say "Why?" when the parent makes some demand upon him.

Often it is a legitimate question and the child is entitled to an explanation of why the parent wants him to act in this specific way.

Children have rights, too. Maybe the mother doesn't want him to, but he wants to. In this conflict with a parent the issue will be solved if there is a reason good enough and logical enough for the child to accept. He has the privilege of making a decision on the basis of what is right—not just on a whim of the parent.

There is no reason why a parent should be chary of explanations. Some conduct is immoral—or it seems so to society—some is economically punitive to the parent, some is inconsiderate of family or persons in it, or too inconvenient. Speak up. Tell the child why and he will accept a reasonable explanation.

He won't if he must alter his conduct just because the parent can't be bothered with finding a real reason but merely demands that he submit because she says he must.

Careers for Women Supported by New CBC Governor

VICTORIA, B.C. — (CP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Farr, newly-appointed member of the CBC board of governors, is a staunch supporter of careers for women.

She admits she knows little about her new post—one of many she has held—but said: "I am very anxious to learn."

She has pioneered many movements for women, although she is not the first woman to be appointed to the board of governors, the rulers of Canada's national radio corporation.

Eleven years ago British Columbia was represented on the board by the famed author and women's advocate, Mrs. Nellie McClung.

Mrs. Farr combined a career with that of homemaker. She is the widow of E. Stanley Farr, educationist and lawyer, who died in 1948. And she is the mother of three grown daughters, two of whom are married.

Born at Warwick, Ont., she graduated from the University of Toronto in home economics in 1913, and came to Victoria two years later.

Mrs. Farr was the first teacher in home economics at the normal school here and pioneered in the movement to establish a home economics course at the University

Lakusta-Tucker Wedding Held at McDougall Church

On the farm of her father, Sylvia Lois Tucker entered McDougall United Church recently for her marriage to John Edward Lakusta.

Both Edmonton families, bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Tucker and her husband is son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lakusta.

Against a background of ferns, Rev. Wesley Bainbridge performed the afternoon ceremony.

Bride's gown of traditional white satin was fashioned with lace frilled panel in the full skirt. Her misty veil was held by a beaded coronet. She wore matching pearl necklace and earrings and carried pink roses.

TWO ATTENDANTS

Miss Anita Zettel and Miss Rayona Baker attended her in gowns of yellow and pink respectively with matching chapel veils. Yellow and pink carnations made up their bouquets.

George Fedun and Steve Lakusta attended the bridegroom. Ushers were Robert Tucker and Michael Bulat.

Reception followed at home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Tucker received in a wine taffeta dress complemented with black accessories and yellow roses.

Mrs. Lakusta received in black and grey ensemble with red roses fastened at her shoulder.

Eric Baker proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride changed to sand colored suit with brown trim and brown accessories.

Returning from their honeymoon the young couple will make their home in Edmonton.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

From any druggist, get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred until dissolved. No cooking needed (it's easy. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Thus you make 16 ounces of medicine, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases soreness promptly.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

FOR EXTRA CONVENIENCE GET NEW, READY-TO-USE, PREPARED PINEX.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Mr. Whitewash, the big, white polar bear, had come out for a walk in the snow the same day that Uncle Wiggily, Mr. Turtfrog and Uncle Butter the goat were shut up in a snow room under a drift.

Mr. Whitewash always came to visit Uncle Wiggily during the Christmas holidays after finishing his work for the year in the workshop of Santa Claus at the north pole. Mr. Whitewash lived in a snow block house, or igloo, near Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Before I go back to North Pole Land," said the bear gentleman that day, "I will go for a walk in the snow around Woodland."

So, as I told you, Mr. Whitewash was out walking when Uncle Wiggily, Mr. Turtfrog and Pat Butter the goat were down in the big white snowdrift room making and eating snow pudding.

"Um! Yum! I smell something good!" softly growled the polar bear, as he walked near the big snowdrift, under which were Uncle Wiggily and his friends.

"I know what that smell is! It's snow pudding. I haven't had any snow pudding since I left the North Pole. I would be glad to make it, if you would like snow pudding around here!"

Mr. Whitewash again sniffed, snuffed and snoofed with his nose.

Held like prisoners in the deep snowdrift, out of which they could not dig their way, Uncle Wiggily heard that sniffing, snuffing and snoofing sound.

"What's that!" asked Uncle Butter the goat.

"It jolly well sounds like someone getting ready to sneeze, my word, yes! Eh, what!" asked the bulldog in his English way.

"It's someone who smells our snow pudding," said Uncle Wiggily. "The vanilla flavor perfume goes a long way. Yes, someone has smelled our snow pudding."

"Maybe it's Neddie Stubtail, the boy bear, coming to look for his sled that we coasted downhill on," said Uncle Butter.

"It's a bear who is sniffing but it isn't Neddie," said Uncle Wiggily. "I think it is my friend, Mr. Whitewash. The sniffing, snuffing and snoofing noises sound just like Whitie, I'll give him a hail!"

Standing up on a lump of snow, Uncle Wiggily shouted:

"Is that you, Whitie?"

"That's who it is," answered the polar bear up on top of the snowdrift. "Where are you, Wiggy? I know your voice."

"We're deep down under a snowdrift," answered the rabbit gentleman, "and we can't dig our way out."

"Where is that snow pudding I smell?" asked the polar bear.

"It's down here with us," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I made the snow pudding from some eggs, sugar and vanilla that Pat Butter had."

"Is there any of that snow pudding left for me?" asked the bear.

Uncle Wiggily looked in the pail and replied:

"Yes, there is some left, Whitie. But we can't get out to bring it to you."

"Don't bother about bringing it out to me!" roared Mr. Whitewash. "I'll dig my way down to you and come to your rescue. Save that snow pudding. Here I come!"

Bulletin Safety Club

EDMONTON BULLETIN SAFETY CLUB

Last Sunday, at White Mud ski village, we saw a skier come down the hill and fall near the bottom. There is nothing particularly unusual about this except that this young man broke his ankle.

What struck us rather forcibly was not the fact of him falling, because dozens of skiers took similar falls, but how easily his ankle was broken. It did not seem possible that this chap was hurt from such an ordinary tumble.

Now we are not going to tell you Safety Club members to stop skiing on hills: a touch of danger makes any sport exciting. But since broken legs and arms are no fun, perhaps there is a way to avoid some of them.

Expert skiers learn how to fall safely. We are sure they will be glad to tell you how; don't be shy; ask one.

LEARN THOROUGHLY

The easiest way to keep from drowning is to stay in shallow water. When you can skim well you can tackle deep water, but remember, even the strongest swimmers don't go far from land.

If you apply this principle to skiing and stay on the gentle slopes until you learn properly, you can then climb the higher hills with safety. As you get more proficient, you can go almost anywhere.

So that's it, boys and girls, the answer is proficiency.

Don't go in water out of your depth.

Don't ski out of control from any height.

If you start to learn something, learn it well. There is such a thing as going too fast. Being able to ski from the top of White Mud hill is not much good if you fall at the bottom and break an ankle.

I PLEDGE:

To stop and look before I step
And cross with light on green;
Go to the corner of each row;
Just as I may be seen.
To not run out between parked cars
Or play on any street
Always, to Careful' is to me
A motto I will keep

Unless automobile tires are changed systematically, the right rear one is the first to show signs of wear.

Garage Service Station
Quarter Of A Million Yearly Gas Sales
This excellently located garage business is a real money-maker and has exceptional future prospects as it is located on No. 16 Highway, just on the City Limits. No. 16 Highway is to be the main outlet from the City to the Alaska Highway, in addition, is in the process of being paved to Jasper, which will greatly increase the tourist business in this area. There is also a good possibility that No. 16 will be a Trans-Canada Highway in the not too distant future. Taking these developments into consideration with the exceptionally good present business, makes the price of $26,500 a very good one. The property consists of a corner lot 84'x150', a good stucco building, $9,000 worth of equipment, $3,000 worth of stock. Price again, lock, stock and barrel, $26,500.

Contractors
Here is a business and commercial corner lot—48' by 145' in Edmonton's West End—on 124 St. and 109 Ave. corner, for a total price of $5,000.

Early Closing Date Starts in Barrhead

BARRHEAD, Jan. 10.—Closing of Barrhead stores at 7 p.m. on Saturday nights got a mixed reception on the initial Saturday evening.

The town bylaw compels merchants to close at 7 p.m. during the months of January, February and March with 9 p.m. holding sway for the balance of the year. Many people, not knowing of the change were left short. One large store had a protest into the council meeting but it was received too late to be considered this year.

Lively Party

WHITECOURT, Jan. 10.—Whitecourt's new year frolic sparked 1951 to a lively beginning in this district.

Sponsored by the Legion, a crowded hall greeted the new year with all the usual greetings in a dance and frolic that began just after midnight. Music was supplied by the Whitecourt orchestra and dancing continued until 5 a.m.

AIR TRANSPORT BOARD

Notice of Hearing

Associated Airways Limited has applied to the Air Transport Board for a licence to operate a Class A/Non-scheduled Charter commercial air service from a base at Hay River, N.W.T.

As a result of a public hearing held in Yellowknife on April 25, 1950, a similar application to operate such a service was denied by the Board on the grounds that it would not be in the public interest to grant to the Applicant the licence applied for.

Associated Airways Limited has now offered additional evidence intending to show that whether or not at the time of the first application it would not have been in the public interest to grant the application, circumstances have changed sufficiently to warrant reconsideration of the Board's decision. The Board is satisfied that the additional evidence now offered by the Applicant would warrant the Board in permitting the Applicant to apply again.

The Board has therefore set Wednesday, February 21st, 1951, at 10:00 a.m. for the taking of evidence and hearing representations on the above application at a public hearing in the Court House, Edmonton, Alberta.

Any person desiring to make representations concerning this application should file a complete submission with the Acting Secretary, Air Transport Board, No. 3 Temporary Building, Wellington Street, Ottawa, Canada, by February 2nd, 1951.

When a person entitled to be heard intends to file written memoranda or data by way of exhibit, he should in all cases where it would appear to facilitate the expeditious conduct of the proceedings, prepare seven additional copies for the use of the Board with further copies for use by other parties.

AIR TRANSPORT BOARD,
Gilbert W. Wadasa,
Acting Secretary.
Ottawa, January 8, 1951.

ACCURACY—first consideration in every EATON Ad.

When we quote
COMPARATIVE PRICES
we make sure of our figures!

★ When we quote a "Comparative Price"—that is, compare an Eaton special price with the ordinary price prevailing — a thorough survey is made of the local market, to make certain that the special price to be quoted is substantially lower than the price at which the article is presently being sold in other stores as well as our own. Only when this condition is fulfilled will we quote Comparative Prices in our advertising.

★ This is one of the many ways in which we apply the rule that

EATON ADVERTISING
